IVENS HANGED FOR HIS CRUEL MURDER OF WOMAN

CHICAGO, June 22.—Richard Ivens was hanged here today for the murder of Mrs. Bessie Hollister, the wife of Franklin C. Hollister, head of the printing establishment of Hollister Brothers. The crime, which was committed on the evening of January 12 of this year, was one of the most revolting in the police history of Chicago.

The condemned man, until he stood upon the drop, faced death in the same stolid manner in which he has conducted himself since his arrest. When he stepped on the scaffold, however, much of his courage failed him. Just before the cap was drawn over his face, he attempted to utter a prayer, but although his lips moved convulsively his voice could not respond and he was not able to utter a sound. It was evident that he was on the verge of collapse and the sheriff hastened the last details as much as possible in order to avoid such a contingency.

Just prior to the execution the aged father of Ivens called at the jail and asked to see his son for the last time. His request was refused by the guards and the father made quite a scene as he begged with tears to be allowed to see the young man once more. It was finally found necessary to lead him from the building. An aged woman who made her appearance at about the same time as the father of Ivens, insisted that the condemned man was about to be hanged unjustly, as her own son had confessed to her that he and not Ivens was the actual criminal. She was detained pending an inquiry into her sanity.

ELABORATE CEREMONIES MARK IMPORTANT EVENT

MAUD, QUEEN OF NORWAY.

King and Queen Are Greeted by Vast Throngs.

TRONDHJEM, June 22.—Coronation day opened with a glowing but cold sun shining. In the early morning splatters of rain fell and a chill wind came off the fjord, making it necessary to wear overcoats and winter clothing. The normal temperature in the cathedral previous to the ceremony was under fifty degrees and it was feared that many of those present would carry away a painful and lasting reminder of the coronation of King Haakon and Queen Maud, although the Norwegian court wisely relaxed the rules governing dress.

LINES OF PEOPLE.

The city was alive at an early hour and by 8 o'clock the avenues reaching to the cathedral were filled with straggling lines of people making for the choicest points of vantage from which to see the members of the royal family and the distinguished guests enter the cathedral. The doors of the latter were opened at 8 a. m., and shortly after three bishops, robed in black and white, drove up in a basket-like phaeton. The crowd uncovered when the bishops entered the cathedral.

EFFECT IMPOSING.

The cathedral filled rapidly. By 10:15 a. m. the majority of the spectators had arrived and were seated, the women in evening costumes and many of the men in bright uniforms and wearing orders. The effect was imposing in spite of the half-light in the interior of the old cathedral. Long rows of seats extended along the entire both sides of the building, rising tier upon tier. The center of the nave was unoccupied except by the throne seats and a few chairs back of the columns. A red carpet was stretched down the aisles and the center of both transepts.

PRIESTS ARRIVE.

The arrival of the bishops was followed by the appearance of a number of priests, all robed in white. They entered the north sanctuary at 10:20 and formed a semi-circle about the altar and with bent heads, offered up prayers for the King and Queen. Their entrance silenced the crowd.

CASINO IS DESTROYED

Fire Breaks Out at Santa Cruz, Doing Much Damage.

SANTA CRUZ, June 22.—The main building of the Casino at this seaside resort caught fire this morning and was destroyed. Loss $70,000, covered by insurance.

The pleasure pier, the power plant, the tent city and the many other attractions along the water front were saved. At a meeting of the stockholders of the Tent City corporation, held immediately after the fire, it was decided to put up a temporary casino to be ready within ten days, and to have plans drawn for a much larger and more magnificent building than that just burned. Work will begin as soon as contracts can be let for this permanent structure.

COUNTESS DIVORCED

CHICAGO, June 22.—After giving testimony in the court of Judge Gibbons, in Chicago, Countess Sophia de Rilly of Greece has won her suit for divorce against Count Paul de Rilly. The decree was signed yesterday.

Testimony in the unusual divorce proceedings was heard by the judge in his private office. There were only two witnesses, the countess and Miss Virginia Neff, both of whom testified to the count's inebrity, and the circumstances of the desertion. Count de Rilly was not present and the charges made by Countess de Rilly were not questioned.

Count de Rilly, formerly was a member of the Greek parliament. He is said now to be in Mexico. The countess is the daughter of a former prime minister of Greece, and has lived in Chicago two years.

TRAINS HELD UP BY GREEN FROGS

Niles and vicinity are experiencing a frog plague. The trains on the division passing through Niles are frequently held up by the little green jumpers. The whirr of wheels is a daily sound to the railroad engineer on the southern run, but he knows now that his engine is slipping over an army of frogs. The farmers in the Livermore valley are arming themselves against the green pest and purpose to exterminate them.

FIND THE DIAMOND

Lanterns Used Searching for Mrs. Whitney's Ring.

HEMPSTEAD, L. I., June 22.—Because they found a diamond ring by systematic search through grass with lanterns, four men here will receive a reward of $1000. The ring belongs to Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, and was given her on the occasion of her marriage by the late William C. Whitney.

She lost it on Saturday. When it did not appear from any quarter, and after the lawn had been gone over many times by daylight, the four men hit upon the lantern idea.

The procured a diamond ring and experimented with it in the grass and found that with a bright lantern it would cast rays thta could be easily seen when the light was ten feet away. The lawn was laid out into squares. The light was worked from each corner of each square last night, and the ring, valued at $20,000, was soon recovered.

WRITER HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—Charles F. Lummis, the well-known writer and librarian, had a narrow escape from death while on the desert, from canned meat, and not from the ordinary desert perils.

"I was all right as long as I stayed with the Indians," said Mr. Lummis today. "But when I got within reach of civilization, in a little restaurant in the Rio Grande valley, I got hold of some canned sausages. The result was a bad case of ptomaine poisoning and a doctor worked over me for six hours."

FORMER CONVICT

Stackpole, Charged in Los Angeles With Murder, Has Record.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 22.—Ernest G. Stackpole, charged with the murder of Joel Scheck in Los Angeles Thursday morning, June 14, was at one time a prisoner in the Utah state penitentiary. His alias was Harry Poole. He was convicted of burglary in Salt Lake City, December 12, 1902, and sentenced to eight years' confinement. He was pardoned May 21, 1905, and left Salt Lake with his father. During his confinement here he received letters from his father in Arizona. Late in the fall of 1902 Poole entered the home of Dr. Charles W. Higgins, of Salt Lake. He stole quietly into a parlor in which a daughter of Dr. Higgins and a young man were sitting. Poole had a handkerchief tied over the upper part of his face. After relieving the young couple of their money and jewelry the fellow backed out of the room and out of sight. He was caught by the police and both Miss Higgins and her companion identified the man.

HAAKON VII, KING OF NORWAY.

CHURCH CHOIR LED BY BLIND SINGER

Miss Helen Mesow, the blind Berkeley girl whose extraordinary voice in great measure compensates her for her loss of sight, has taken the place of leading soprano in the choir of the First Christian church, and will render a solo at each Sunday morning service. Her first appearance in this capacity was last Sunday. In the congregation were many who have never heard her; and the splendid things they said about her song would have turned the head of many an aspiring vocalist. But one of the most notable things about this young woman's singing is her evident unconsciousness of the fact that she has done anything unusual or fine.

EASTERNER SENDS A LIBERAL CHECK

Henry S. Robinson, of Andover, Mass., has donated $50 to the Alameda County Maternity Hospital and Orphan Shelter. A check for that amount was sent by him through his cousin, James W. Cox, of this city.

INWALL AND HANBY TO LOSE LICENSES

Committee of the City Council Has Recommended That They Be Revoked.

Because of persistent violation of the provisions of the liquor license ordinance, and disobedience of the orders of the city council regarding the sale of liquor, on the part of J. H Inwall, who conducts a saloon at 867 Broadway, and Paul Hanby, a West Oakland druggist, the license committee of the city council last night recommended that the licenses of Inwall and Hanby be revoked, and ordered that they at once cease the sale of liquor. No action was taken in the case of John Mello, who conducts a saloon at 782 East Twelfth street, who was cited to appear before the committee to answer to charges of conducting a disorderly and disreputable place of business.

SMITH SCORED MELLO.

The case of Mello was first brought to the attention of the committee by Councilman Burns, who had asked that Mello be cited to appear before the committee after the latter had been fined by Police Judge Smith on a charge of battery. In passing sentence on Mello, Judge Smith severely scored the saloon keeper, and declared that he hoped the city council would take some action in regard to the case.

STRUCK A CUSTOMER.

Mello was convicted of having struck and knocked out Joseph O'Donnell, the nineteen-year-old son of Deputy Constable Thomas O'Donnell, after having allowed the latter to become intoxicated in his saloon When he appeared before the license committee last night Mello declared that he had struck O'Donnell because the youth had used abusive and profane language in the saloon Mello admitted, however, that he had allowed O'Donnell to remain in the saloon for nearly four hours, but denied that the young man was intoxicated when the trouble occurred

DEFENDED BY COUNCILMAN.

Mello was warmly defended by Councilman Aitken, who, in giving testimony for the accused saloon keeper, said

"Since the charges which are now before this committee have been presented against Mr. Mello, I have investigated as carefully as possible the character of his place of business, and I can assure this committee that from what I have been able to learn, this gentleman keeps a first class place, in which there has never before been a single instance of disorder.

MELLO NOT BLAMED.

"As to the man whom Mello struck, I have been informed by people living in East Oakland that he is one of the kind who, when they get a few drinks of beer, think they own the whole town. From what I have been able to learn of the trouble, I do not in the least blame Mr Mello for striking O Donnell as he did, and I am of the opinion that this whole matter should be dropped by this committee"

IS EXONERATED.

Chief of Police Wilson informed the members of the committee that he had never received any complaint regarding Mello's place of business, and on this showing, and owing to the fact that no one had appeared against the saloon keeper the latter was exonerated.

APPEARS SECOND TIME.

For the second time within a short period, Harry Inwall, who conducts a saloon at 867 Broadway, appeared before the license committee to answer to charges of disregarding the order issued by the city council immediately after the earthquake prohibiting the sale of any liquor, except that which was dispensed over the bar in glasses. Inwall was charged by Police Officers Sill and Mulgrew with having repeatedly sold flasks of whisky since the issuance of this order by the council, and both officers testified that they had finally caught the saloonkeeper in the act of selling flasks of liquor outside the saloon owned by him

POLICEMAN'S TESTIMONY.

Patrolman Mulgrew was the first witness called, and he testified that on the morning of June 13, he, in company with Officer Sill, had seen Inwall sell a flask of whisky to a man named Roach, the sale being made in the doorway of the Delger building. Almost immediately afterward, according to the testimony of the police officer, the saloon keeper had sold another flask to John Oaks.

SAW LIQUOR SOLD.

Patrolman Sill testified that he had stood on the stairway immediately above the doorway in which the liquor was sold, and had seen Inwall give the flask to Roach and receive the money for the liquor. In describing the sale of the liquor, Sill said

"In company with Officer Mulgrew, on the morning of June 13, I saw Mr. Inwall bring the flask of liquor from his saloon and go into the doorway of the Delger building. While he was in the saloon I slipped into the doorway of the Delger building and stood on the stairway, and I saw Inwall come in and give the flask to this man Roach, and saw Roach pass three pieces of money to Inwall in payment for the whisky. The coins were a twenty-five-cent piece, a ten-cent piece, and a five-cent piece.

SAW HE WAS CAUGHT.

"A moment later he started to give a flask to John Oaks, but just then he caught sight of Officer Mulgrew, who was outside. I then went down the stairs and asked Inwall what he was selling liquor in bottles for. He denied that he had a bottle, but I found one in his pocket.

"When he saw that he was caught, he first said that he had not sold any whisky, but had simply given Roach a drink, but afterward he acknowledged that he had sold a flask to Roach, but said he had done so because Roach was sick."

DENIED THE ACCUSATION.

In answer to the testimony of the police officers, Inwall informed the members of the committee that he had not sold any liquor. He declared that it was his practice to take a flask of whisky home with him each evening, and that on the morning in question he had simply given Roach a drink. He pleaded that in the thirty years that he had been in business in this city, he had never but once before been called before the council, and that he had always kept a respectable place.

REFUSED LENIENCY.

The members of the committee, however, refused to again show leniency, as they did in the first instance, when Inwall was brought up on charges of disobeying the orders of the council, and in executive session after the examination of the accused saloon keeper, decided to recommend to the council that his license be revoked

DRUGGIST WAS WARNED.

Paul Hanby, a druggist, whose place of business is located at 1786 Seventh street, was charged by Police Officer John Fahy with having sold liquor in bottles without the prescription of a physician, and that he persisted in violating the provisions of the ordinance, despite repeated warnings. As evidence of the truth of the charges Fahy presented to the committee a small bottle of whisky, which he testified he had taken from a negro, who had purchased it from Hanby only a few moments before

CAUSED A SENSATION.

Hanby flatly denied the charges of the police officer, and a sensation was caused when Councilman Meese, after asking the accused druggist a number of questions, which were evasively answered, said

"As Mr. Hanby has in effect, declared that this officer is a liar, I now ask that the officer be sworn, and that he repeat his testimony before this committee under oath. After Fahy had been sworn by the clerk, he said.

"Since I have been on the beat on which Mr Hanby's store is located I have been repeatedly informed that he was selling liquor in bottles, and I finally went to him and warned him to desist I said to him 'I know that you have been selling whisky without prescriptions, and you have got to stop it. If you don't stop, I will lay for you, and I'll catch you, too.' He denied that he had been selling liquor in violation of the ordinance, and I left the place, after warning him once more

NEGROES BOUGHT LIQUOR.

"I walked around the block and came back, and stood in a doorway across the street, and not five minutes afterward I saw two negroes go up to the store. Hanby came to the door, and after talking with them for a minute, went back into the store and brought out that bottle, which was wrapped in white paper, and gave it to one of the coons, whose name is Alonzo Smith. Smith put his hand in his pocket, and took out a quarter, which he gave to Hanby, who went back and rang it up on the cash register.

"As the negroes started to walk away, I went over and stopped them and asked Smith what he had in his pocket, and he told me at first that he had a bottle of medicine, but he finally owned up that he had a bottle of whisky. I told him that he had better give it to me, and he said he would if I would not send him to jail. That bottle on the table is the one which I got from Smith, and I saw Hanby sell it to the negro and take the money for it"

ATTEMPTED INTERRUPTION.

Hanby several times attempted to interrupt the testimony of the police officer, and when the latter had finished his story, repeated his denial that he had sold the whisky, but when asked by Councilman Meese if he would deny the accusation under oath, precipitately refused to be sworn.

WANT LICENSES REVOKED.

There being no further testimony in the case, the committee went into executive session, and a few moments later announced that the licenses of both Inwall and Hanby had been recommended revoked.

MYSTERY CLEARED

Drowned Student Proves Now to Have Been Shanghaied.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The student who was drowned in the wreck of the steamer Corinthian off Eureka on June 11th, was not Andrew McCary, of the University of California, as was first supposed, bu was instead John McCormick, a graduate of St. Ignatius College, and the son of Thomas McCormick, president of the firm of McCormick Brothers, iron founders, of Main and Folsom streets

Shanghaied and shipped on the steamer North Fork as an able seaman to complete a non-union crew, the promising young man who had entered upon a postgraduate course at the university with the intention of studying law, went down to death in the breakers with the Corinthian while trying to work his way home.

His death was the result of fraudulent pretenses on the part of shipping agents He had signed articles to go to China on a steamer of the Pacific Mail Company as a waiter just for the trip Instead of a desired voyage to the Orient, he was taken out in the bay in a launch and put on board the North Fork as an able seaman.

When McCormick found out that he had been duped and that he had no other choice than to go before the mast on the North Fork, he asked Captain Nelson if he had any objection to him signing a fictitious name, as he did not wish his friends to know his fate.

Captain Nelson agreed to let McCormick go when the ship reached Eureka and he signed the ship articles as "Andrew McCarey" The vessel was then under way and he could not return to shore.

The father of the dead boy called on Chief of Police Dinan last night and demanded the arrest of the people who secured the crew for the North Fork

On June 11th, the same day that the Corinthian went to pieces, McCormick wrote a postal card to his parents in this city at 1413 Post street, telling them that he expected to return home in a few days That day he shipped as a seaman on the Corinthian for the return trip under the name of McCarey

Last evening McCormick's father and John J. Sullivan, an attorney, a brother-in-law of McCormick, went to police headquarters and asked that an official investigation be made and arrests made in the case when the blame could be placed.

Attorney Sullivan said that he had been informed by Captain Nelson of the North Fork that McCormick had been shipped by a man named Sweare, who is shipping agent for many of the ship owners.

McCormick was twenty years old. He had gained the permission of his parents to take a trip to the Orient as a waiter and left home with the intention of getting a few articles necessary for the trip.

He did not inform his father of his intention of assuming a name, but could have had no other motive for so doing than to conceal his identity while in a menial position.

When McCormick failed to return his father instituted a search for him, and found that Captain Nelson could give a perfect description of his son The signature of "Andrew McCarey" in the articles of the North Fork was in the handwriting of McCormick, says his father.

"Captain Nelson gave an accurate description of John," said Mr McCormick last night. "He described the glasses, dark hair, light suit, patent leather shoes, light fedora hat, his weight and build.

"My son told Captain Nelson that he was shanghaied and asked if it was not possible to get back to land, but the ship was out in the bay and ready to sail, so it was too late.

"And then John told the captain that he wanted to sign the articles under the name of McCarey, and asked if there was any objection He said that he had intended to go to China and hardly expected to be fooled into going to Eureka, but so long as he was in for it he wanted to be game

"Whoever is to blame for this will be prosecuted to the limit of the law."

M'DONALD ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE

Wife Over Whom Shooting Took Place Faints on Hearing the Verdict.

After an all-day argument. the jury late last evening acquitted Al C. McDonald, of Pleasanton, of the murder of Joseph Mello, whom he shot and killed on the night of March 22d last.

He was visibly affected when the long wait was finally concluded, and arose from his chair and stood up until motioned to sit down again while the court formalities were finished. He had motioned his wife, who had come in alone into the courtroom, to leave, just as the jury was filing in with its verdict, and she stood outside the courtroom torn with her emotion and weeping.

JUROR GAVE IN.

The jury retired for deliberation shortly after 10 o'clock yesterday morning and it was not until 5:30 o'clock last night that William Austin, one of the jurors, finally gave in and announced to the other eleven men that he would vote with them for acquittal. It was some time afterwards before judge, attorneys and courtroom officials could be gathered together and it was nearly 6 o'clock when the verdict was announced.

While the jurors refused to talk in regard to what caused the long delay, it was learned, first, that Austin was the one man who believed that McDonald should not be allowed to go scathless, and also that, while others were of the same opinion, the presumption of his innocence was such that the others thinking the same way as Austin did not see their way clear to do anything but acquit him.

There was practically little or no evidence, they stated, to contradict the statements of McDonald and his wife. The court instructed them that unless they were satisfied beyond and to the exclusion of all reasonable doubt as to his guilt, they should acquit. The presumption was largely in McDonald's favor, and while he showed little regret for what he had done, under the law the jury did not feel that there was anything else to do but acquit.

WIFE FAINTED.

After McDonald and his wife had met outside the courtroom Mrs. McDonald had a fainting spell and whisky had to be brought from a saloon across the way to help revive her. She was finally able to leave with her husband and his attorneys. They have no plans at the present time but Mrs. McDonald wants to go home to her parents for a time at Santa Rosa if her husband will accompany her.

DEATH BECKONS THIS WOMAN

Mrs. Huntington, Mother of Railway Magnate, Very Ill at Daughter's Home.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Mrs. Solon Huntington, mother of H. E. Huntington, the millionaire street railway magnate of Los Angeles, and of Willard V. Huntington and Mrs E. Burke Holladay, is lying at the point of death at the Holladay residence, 2215 Buchanan street Around her bedside during her last moments are a number of immediate relatives, who have hurried here in response to tidings of her serious illness

H. E. Huntington came up from Los Angeles on being advised of the critical condition of his mother, and has been almost constantly at her bedside during the past few days Mrs Gilbert Perkins and Howard E Huntington, grandchildren of the aged patient, arrived here from the southern part of the state yesterday, and their sister, Mrs John B. Metcalf, a bride of three months, who, with her husband, has been on an extended bridal trip in China and Japan, arrived almost simultaneously on the America Maru, which reached port yesterday morning Mr. and Mrs Metcalf went straight from the Mail dock to the Holladay residence and an affecting scene between Mrs. Huntington and her favorite grandchild ensued

Relatives of Mrs Huntington who have been watching at her bedside say that the feeble patient, during her moments of consciousness, has repeatedly asked for Mrs Metcalf since she realized that her hours were numbered She was told that her granddaughter was coming home on the America Maru, and she declared repeatedly that she was determined to live until her arrival At the Holladay home it is said that Mrs. Huntington has kept the flickering spark of life burning for several days through the sheer exercise of her will power

Mrs Huntington is 85 years of age, and in spite of her advanced years has enjoyed comparatively good health until recently. Her home for years has been at Oneonta, N. Y., and for many years she has pursued the practice of spending her winters in California, returning east usually in May. She had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. Burke Holladay, for some time previous to the fire, but at the time of the big disaster in San Francisco was in the southern part of the state. A few weeks ago she insisted on returning to San Francisco so that she might spend another week or two with Mrs. Holladay in advance of her usual time of departing for her home in the east. She became much enfeebled shortly after her arrival here, and has since been confined to her bed, under the care of Dr Trask During the past few days she has been sinking rapidly, and at times has been unconscious. During her conscious moments she has been without pain or suffering, and realizing that the end was near has taken repeated farewell of the relatives gathered about her.

TENT DWELLERS TOLD TO MOVE

Owner of Vacant Lot Makes an Attempt to Evict Shore Family.

Sixth and Jackson streets was a center of attraction yesterday afternoon, the drawing card being an attempt to evict Mrs. Moses Shore and her family from possession of a vacant lot at that point.

A goodly crowd collected, but the spectators saw nothing sensational. The lot is owned by a Mrs Smith, who is said to live on Madison street, and it is her intention to improve the lot with a building of some description Before building operations can begin, however, Mrs. Shore with her family, her tents and household goods must find some other camping ground. No attempt was made yesterday to forcibly eject Mrs Shore, but an ultimatum was handed to her to the effect that she must get out today or be put out. Although there was no bloodshed there was much loud talking and some tears and the crowd seemed satisfied

Mrs Shore is a refugee. She was burned out in San Francisco and came to Oakland Her husband, Moses Shore, is a tailor but where he is working at present his youthful son could not say yesterday. There are six children in the family, three boys and three girls. Two of the boys, said the young hopeful seen yesterday, have recently run away from home In Oakland Mrs. Shore pitched her tent at Sixth and Taylor streets without permission, says the owner, and she has remained there since April 21

Neither Mrs. Shore nor her husband were to be seen, but they were represented by a couple of comely girls and a boy of about ten years of age The girls were crying bitterly despite the protestations of well-meaning friends that no one could force them to move.

"Just you stay where you are," said one young woman who plainly sympathized with the Shores. "They can't make you move Now, don't cry, just you stay where you are" This might not have been good advice from a legal standpoint, but it brought comfort to the children. The Shores have one large tent and a small one

TAINTED PAPER MONEY.

Treasurer Treat has submitted to Secretary Shaw a report recommending provisions of law for cleansing the country's paper currency. Mr Treat does not say why such laws are necessary in the United States rather than elsewhere. It was not within his province to do so, but it is suggestive that other countries do not have paper money which is actually unsafe to handle The treasury counters are sickened by its odor, and there have been cases of blood poisoning traced to it. Why is it that the United States has "tainted" money in a sense about which there can be no dispute?

In other countries currency has a life like that of a plant or animal. When it has survived its cycle it dies a natural death, and there is birth of another monetary unit, in an equally natural manner. In some countries this life of currency is that of a tax period. Currency is issued to facilitate tax collection, and when it comes into government hands it is not reissued. In other countries currency is issued for planting the crops, or harvesting them, and when it has discharged its duty it dies until the next crop season Generally the life of a civilized currency is that of a trade cycle, corresponding roughly to the life of an average promissory note say, two or three months, more or

"Can you name," said Underwood, "a place in the world where steel rails are produced at less cost than in Pittsburg?"

"I think not," said Dalzell.

"Then can you name a place in the world where pig iron is produced as cheaply as it is in Pittsburg?" said Underwood.

"I think not," said Dalzell.

"Then," persisted Underwood, "why should the country put a protective tariff upon either steel rails or pig iron?"

"I will come to that later in my speech" said Dalzell

IN NATURE'S LABORATORY.

Buried deep in our American forests, many years ago, Dr. Pierce found a beautiful, blooming plant the root of which possesses wonderfully efficacious properties as a stomach and general tonic, also as an alterative or blood purifier and liver invigorator, having an especial affinity for all mucous surfaces upon which it exerts a most salutary, soothing and healing influence

This sturdy little plant is known to botanists as Hydrastis Canadensis, but has several local English names, being generally known as Golden Seal. Dr. Pierce found the root of this common forest plant to possess medicinal principles of great potency, especially when combined, in just the right proportions, with Queen's root, Black Cherrybark, Stone root, Mandrake root and Bloodroot, the properties of each being extracted and preserved in chemically pure glycerine of proper strength.

This compound Dr. Pierce named his "Golden Medical Discovery," in honor of the sturdy little Golden Seal plant So little used was the root of this plant by the medical profession at that time, that it could be purchased in the open markets for from fifteen cents to twenty cents a pound The use of many tons of this root every year in Dr Pierce's two leading medicines—for it enters into both "Golden Medical Discovery" and also into Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as one of their most important ingredients—has caused the price of the root to advance until to-day it commands upwards of a dollar and a half a pound.

DR. PIERCE'S FAITH.

Dr. Pierce believes that in our native forests are to be found an abundance of most valuable medicinal plants for the cure of many distressing and most fatal maladies, if we would only seek them out, test them and learn how and for what diseases to use them. Furthermore, he believes that the vegetable kingdom is the one to resort to for the most harmless remedial agents. They act most kindly upon the human system and are eliminated or carried out of the body by the natural functions without injury, even in cases where it is necessary to make protracted use of them in order to experience permanent cures. Dr. Pierce's medicines being purely vegetable, are perfectly harmless In other words, while they are potent to cure, being purely vegetable in composition and containing no alcohol, they leave no bad effects behind. This is not generally true when mineral medicines and those containing large percentages of alcohol are taken into the system and their use protracted over considerable periods of time

Many years ago, Dr Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol, and furthermore, that it possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent nutritive, antiseptic and a most efficient anti-ferment

THEY STAND ALONE

The fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier nor his Favorite Prescription for 'coal-tar' or ous, over-worked and broken down women contains any alcohol, entitles them to a place all by themselves. They are neither patent medicines nor secret ones either, for every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians now prescribe them and recommend them to their patients when they would not think of advising the use of a secret nostrum They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities of all schools of practice.

ALL RIGHTS PROTECTED.

The exact working formula for making Dr. Pierce's medicines without the use of a drop of alcohol and preserving them unimpaired in any climate for any length of time, cost Dr Pierce and his assistant chemists and pharmacists a tedious course of study and experiments, extending over several years With the use of chemically pure glycerine, of just the right strength and with laboratory apparatus and appliances specially invented and designed to carry on the delicate processes employed, Dr Pierce finally found that all the medicinal principles residing in the several native medicinal roots could be more perfectly extracted and better preserved from fermentation than if alcohol was employed

Besides the glycerine, of itself, possesses the property of greatly enhancing the efficacy of the several medicinal agents employed, whereas alcohol is well known to be objectionable in any medicine to be employed in chronic or lingering diseases, where, at best, treatment must be continued over a considerable period of time in order to make the cure complete and permanent

The exact proportion of the several ingredients used in these medicines as well as the working formula and peculiar process, apparatus and appliances employed in their manufacture, are withheld from publicity that Dr Pierce's proprietary rights may not be infringed and trespassed upon by unprincipled imitators and those who may be piratically inclined

In favor of Dr Pierce's medicines is the frank, confiding, open, honest statement of their full composition, giving every ingredient in plain English, without fear of sucessful criticism and with confidence that the good sense of the afflicted will lead them to appreciate this honorable manner of confiding to them what they are taking into their stomachs when making use of these medicines.

A little book of extracts from many standard medical works of all the different schools of practice, inviting, in the strongest terms, all the several ingredients entering into Dr Pierce's medicines and telling what diseases these most valuable medicinal agents will cure, will be mailed free to any address by Dr. R V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N Y on receipt of request for same, by letter or postal card.

Dr Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are, largely composed of Podophyllin, the concentrated extract of Mandrake root, and they regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels

PHENIX IS ALONE

Will Settle Claims Against the Company in Its Own Way.

J H Lenehan general agent of the Phenix Insurance Company of Brooklyn, New York has sent to all Pacific coast agents of the company the following self explanatory statement concerning the attitude of the Phenix on the insurance situation and notification to the agents that the company will now proceed in the adjustment of its own losses

Oakland June 21 1906

To Our Agents A serious misunderstanding has arisen regarding the attitude of a number of the companies interested in the San Francisco losses and I deem it advisable to inform you as to the position occupied by many of them and particularly as to that of the Phenix

The terrible earthquake of April 18 which wrecked and damaged innumerable buildings and their contents destroyed the water mains of the city and rendered useless the theretofore effective fire department was followed by a conflagration unparalleled as to area and property values involved

The company's policies do not cover loss or damage by earthquake and the injection of this new element into the question as fire followed and completed the destruction has raised an issue not easily disposed of Where policies covered buildings and (or) their contents which had certainly fallen before the fire, or which had been so damaged as to void the insurance claims under such policies cannot be recognized

Where the damage by earthquake was not of sufficient magnitude to render the insurance void or where buildings and (or) their contents were destroyed by civil and (or) military authority before the fire or where books and records were destroyed so that it is impossible to supply the proofs of value required under the contract and for other good reasons it seemed right and just that if settlements were had under policies not absolutely void a reasonable reduction should be made from the face of the policies Many companies expressed a willingness to dispose of such claims by immediate settlements for cash after deducting twenty-five per cent from the policy if the same were generally adopted It is needless to say that such settlement was not obligator, on the assured he could elect to avail himself of it or await an adjustment which naturally would be long and tedious because of the many complications arising from the difficulty of separating losses for which companies were liable from those exempted in the policy contract because of the many varying forms of policy contracts and the loss of essential records both by the companies and the assured

The proposition appealed to many business men and bankers who saw in it the means for prompt disposal of these claims on a cash basis and which meant much to the policy holders in San Francisco This tentative plan however did not meet with the approval of some companies several of whom saw in its opposition an opportunity to secure a certain amount of advertising and nothing has been left undone in that direction I believe this plan offered needed relief to a stricken community and if generally adopted would have provided the funds for immediate restoration of much of the property destroyed It apparently has not secured sufficient endorsement to render it effective and the Phenix will proceed in the adjustment of its own losses giving to each the careful investigation made imperative by reason of the presence of a new and extraordinary condition and necessarily calling for closest scrutiny We owe this to the company and its stockholders as well as policyholders everywhere to you and your patrons who are depending on having reliable insurance for protection against legitimate loss and to the business world but the Phenix will carry out the original proposition and pay at once in cash any claim for which it is legally liable on the basis of a reasonable compromise if it shall to avoid the delay incident to adjustment on account of complications involved

The Phenix Insurance company needs no champion to defend its name before the people of this country Its record of fifty-three years' operations and honorable discharge of obligations in all of the great conflagrations since its organization will be fully maintained It will be found in this instance as heretofore—full and upright in its dealings with claimants and prompt and thorough in meeting its legitimate liability, a position which will commend it as it has in the past to the consideration of honorable men Yours very truly

J H LENEHAN General Agent.

Desperate Battle Between Rivals for Affections of Adored One.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22—A desperate battle took place Thursday at 11 o'clock in the home of Mrs E Palmerlee 1469 McAllister street between William A Crosby, a mail carrier and Albert Nye a roomer over the affections of Mrs Emma Stanton, a friend of the Palmerlee family The men fought in the hallway and it was not until the police arrived that quiet was restored

Crosby is alleged to have attempted to stab his rival with a dirk and as a result he was in the police court this morning accused of an assault with a deadly weapon He promised Judge Shortall that if the charge were dismissed he would leave the Palmerlee residence and seek pastures new He also stated that everything went smoothly until Nye appeared on the scene with his jealousy The case went over until Monday morning for preliminary examination

THREE MEN ARE MISSING

Police Notified of Disappearance of Oakland Persons.

OAKLAND, June 21, 1906

Three men have been reported to the police as missing, after a fruitless search by relatives, who before calling the cases to the attention of the authorities strove in vain to find some trace of the vanished ones.

E J Dow, a painter residing at 1457 Grove street, left hos home on June 19, to come down town, and since that time his family have neither seen nor heard from him. The missing man is described as being forty years of age five feet six inches in height, and weighing 140 pounds He is of light complexion smooth shaven, and is baldheaded When last seen Dow was dressed in mixed sack suit, and wore a soft black hat.

Adolph Anderson, residing at 1566 West street, reported to the police this morning that his father-in-law, John Garrity, aged 70 years, had disappeared from his home yesterday morning, and has since been missing. After searching all night for the aged man, Anderson in despair gave up the quest, and appealed to the police for aid in locating Garrity.

The latter is a pensioner of the Southern Pacific Company, having been in the employ of the company for many years, He was employed before he retired, as a flagman at Seventh and Market streets. The missing man is five feet ten inches in height and wore a straggling gray beard.

J. O Davis, living at 426 Sixth street, also sought the aid of the police this morning to locate a missing man. He reported that John Bailey had been missing since June 16. Bailey when last seen was apparently in the best of spirits and Davis fears that he has met with some accident, or has been the victim of foul play.

Davis gives the following description of the missing man, who is a blacksmith by trade: Forty years of age, five feet two inches in height, weighs 130 pounds, is of light complexion, and at the time of his disappearance wore a short mustache. He was dressed in a mixed coat and dark trousers.

POSSIBILITIES OF TRADE WITH INDIA AND ORIENT

Chairman of the Royal Academy of Science Delivers Address to Berkeley Body.

BERKELEY, June 22.—The directors of the chamber of commerce met in regular session last night in the First National bank building to discuss the bond issue. President Foss appointed a committee to promote the bond issue at the coming election, and to co-operate with the improvement clubs G. P. Ocheltree was appointed to fill the place made vacant by H J Sill who went to Europe All the directors of the chamber of commerce were present at last night's session.

POSSIBILITIES IN ORIENT.

The possibilities of American commerce in Asia, and the relation of Oakland and Berkeley to the expansion of oriental trade, was discussed by Dr Guelph Norman, chairman of the Royal Academy of Science His discussion follows:

"The trade of the United States with Asia is in a very healthy condition For the fiscal year 1903, ending June 30th, the total export and import trade with Asia and Oceanice was $26 300,000, an increase of $13 700,000 or 112 per cent in nine years The imports in 1903 were $9,600,000, as against $3 400,000 nine years previous or an increase of $6,200 000, being 182 per cent The increase in the export trade to China and Hong Kong in the same period was from $8,000 000 to $27,000 000 or 230 per cent In 1894 the exports from America to Japan amounted to only $4 000,000 In 1903 the United States sold to Japan goods amounting to $23,000,000, or an increase of $19 000 000, or 400 per cent The exports of the United States to the Philippine Islands in 1903 amounted to $4 000,000 as against $1 450 000 nine years ago, an increase of over 200 per cent The increase of trade between the United States and the Oriental possessions of Great Britain has been equal to that of other parts of Asia Nearly all exports from America to India go by way of London from whence they are transhipped There will be a great saving of time and expense by shipping United States products and particularly Pacific coast products to Calcutta direct from Pacific coast ports Canned fruits and other canned goods shipped around the Horn or across the continent, thence by the Atlantic or London and Liverpool thence by sea to India require about two seasons to reach their destinations while the packers only guarantee the goods to keep during the season they are packed or canned

MUTUAL BASE.

Geographical advantages place the bay cities as the natural commercial base and metropolis of the Pacific coast as related to Asiatic trade being the terminal point of the majority of the transcontinental railroads and the strategic position in relation to the Pacific Coast trade with Asia from point of distance The Pacific coast products are handled more expeditiously and economically from the mainland than from San Francisco Merchants of the bay cities receive their Eastern consignments one and a half to two days earlier than the merchants of San Francisco receive theirs This time would be saved in shipping all goods for Oriental markets and Oriental goods for Eastern States

LINE TO INDIA

"The introduction of a through line of steamships from this port to India would double the Pacific coast trade in canned fruit canned salmon and many other products in two years if the crops could be doubled in that time Statistics show that Great Britain is the best customer of California in respect to canned goods dried fruit etc But much of this is shipped in a roundabout way to reach the Oriental possessions of the British empire

The reclamation of the tide lands of Berkeley and Oakland the construction of warehouses and docks or wharves is essential for the proper development of the United States trade with Asia The rapid increase of this trade will allow of this improvement being carried out without injuring the trade of San Francisco in a material way

IN FOUR YEARS

"At the close of the fiscal year 1910 this trade should reach $500 000 000 Thus it will be seen that the rapid increase of the trade renders the construction of wharves and docks on the mainland side a matter of necessity The introduction of the line of steamships about to be inaugurated between this port and Calcutta will divert much of the Suez Canal trade both passenger and freight to the Pacific route which will enable Pacific Coast merchants to place their goods in India at a much lower price than can be done by the old route via the Suez Canal The only natural result of this change will be growing popularity of American goods

SILVER SHIPPED.

"India having a silver standard, a large trade is done with the United States in this metal, which is shipped the roundabout way of London involving as in the case of merchandise double cost in freight, by brokerage and time and the burden falling upon the shoulders of Indians and Europeans in that country, which is made all the harder owing to the depreciative value of the rupee British houses, operating in India are largely responsible for this condition of things, as they order the goods sent via London A diversion of this trade from the Suez Canal to the Pacific route will not result in any loss to British concerns as the increase of trade that will result from lower prices will benefit them and the millions of India and contiguous countries as well as the producers on the Pacific coast

TO BUILD WHARVES.

"The company founded at the instance of the Royal Academy of Science is taking steps to build its wharves and warehouses on the mainland, in order to handle United States produce, and particularly the Pacific coast perishable goods for the Orient in the most economic and expeditious manner

'In the matter of developing the Oriental trade, American merchants as well as European houses will have to improve upon their business methods the terrible famines in India which have increased in frequency and severity since the British annexation can only be attributed to our 'unfair methods in commerce American merchants fail to see any relation between the boycotting of the Chinese steamship companies by annexation concerns and the Chinese boycott of American goods by the Chinese in China, or the cancellation of government concessions to American capitalists by the Chinese government

RICE TRUSTS.

"Another illustration of the unfair methods of Western commerce in Asia is seen in the operations of the European rice millers in India and Burma The trusts or combination rings, while illegal, contrive to procure the rice from the poor cultivators at a price much below the cost of production When we are ready to treat with the Asiatics in an equitable and just manner we should hear no more about the 'yellow peril' for the reason that the cause that created the yellow peril, namely the white peril' everywhere dreaded in Asia will have been removed Under the present system, which has long been appropriately termed in Asia as the 'bleeding system, every new enterprise introduced in that land is looked upon as an additional oppression, another nail in the Asiatic coffin But every concern introduced for a legitimate and healthy expansion of trade will be heralded with delight

IRRIGATION SYSTEM.

"The vast irrigation work carried out by the British government will play an important part in the development of the resources of India and Egypt and in the expansion of British and American commerce with those countries

'Among the most elaborate of these systems may be mentioned the 'Ganges Canal with its branches and the canal system in the deltas of the rivers Mahadnidi Gudavari, Krishna, Kavari The five rivers of the Punjal also have their great canal systems and the river Indus is to India what the Nile is to Egypt These systems involved an expenditure of about $175 000 000 The Royal Academy of Science in a communication addressed to his majesty, Edward VII, urged upon him the importance of making a further appropriation for public irrigation works and as loans for the encouragement of private enterprise This matter was taken up and the $150,000,000 was made $200 000 000 annually as loans to private enterprises for a period of twenty years In all the British government is expending about $500,000 000 for the reclamation and colonization of millions of acres to overcome the famine conditions

SUPPLY DEPOTS

"In addition to the irrigation works by the institution I represent, large reserve supply depots will be erected in which will be stored supplies of rice which will meet any emergency of famine It is estimated that by carrying out these improvements not only will suffering be alleviated and famine removed from the land but the revenue of the country will be much enhanced as has been the case in Egypt since the Nile down at Assuan has been in operation, whereby the sugar cane and cotton crops have been doubled'

FAST MEN TO RACE AT LAKESIDE RINK

No end of interest is being created by the announcement of a six-day skating race to be held at the Lakeside Rink next week and the lovers of exciting finishes and wholesome sport whether it be in one line or another doubtless will crowd the huge pavilion on Twelfth street and test its seating capacity

The fact that numerous fast men along the coast, outside of this vicinity are to be pitted against the speediest racers that this city and its surrounding territory can produce has added fuel to the flame of excitement caused by the near aproach of the event and the knowledge that a prize of $100 awaits the successful man is pretty apt to cause the expectation of a fierce race during every one of th six nights of racing to come true

Arthur Waldstein, who won a similar race from a big bunch of roller artists in Portland not long ago is to enter and thinks he has a good chance to win

Meanwhile the daring and graceful act of Professor Franks and 'Baby' Lillian is holding the crowds enchanted this week

Your Vacation And How We Can Help You Enjoy It

Busy and hustling as is every inch of Oakland, still everybody will want a vacation, and with that wonderful Yankee ability of adapting means to ends, there is no doubt but that everybody will get one

Certainly we all feel as if we deserved it for, conservatively speaking every Oaklander has done pretty nearly a year's work during the past three months—and if they haven't, they ought to have done.

The chief value of a vacation, especially to materfamilias, is the freedom from the usual routine and anxiety of house duties Chiefest among these is the solution of that ponderous question of "what to wear." If you come to us, that question is easily solved, especially during vacation time.

In every department of wearables in the Lace House there are grades especially planned for vacation time We can't mention them all in detail in any one store talk, even if we do fill a whole page, but you will find them here just the same

Lawn waists, tub suits, wash skirts, muslin underwear of useful kinds, fancy lawn kimonas, sunbonnets, the right hosiery, underwear, summer hats, linen Mohair dusters, all kinds of art material with which to work many pretty things for the home during the leisure hours.

And for the children, pretty washable dresses, summer hats and sunbonnets, strong tree-climbing stockings, overalls and rompers for boys and girls, strong, easily washed waists and blouses for the boys; the right kind of underwear and strong suspenders, Buster Brown belts and Windsor ties; everything of the right kind for infants.

Suit cases for everybody, even the children

Bathing suits and caps for ladies and misses.

And last but a long way from least, except in prices—NOTIONS The Lace House notion department baffles description unless the ad-writer intends to do without his vacation. And "Notion" is defined as "a fancy article, a trifle, a nic-nac, small ware."

Well, we've got them all in our large notion department bigger than one ordinary store

Embroidered lawn and batiste

Summer Neckwear

stocks, with or without tabs; plenty of choice, 15c, 20c, 25c and to 85c.

New Lingerie stocks, lawn foundations fancifully trimmed with Valenciennes lace, a good selection—25c, 35c, 50c, 65c, 85c.

AGED MAN WANDERS AWAY FROM HOME

John Garrity 69 years old, wandered away from his home in a fit of wrath because his relatives showed that they feared he was about to die The man had been failing steadily of late according to his son-in-law Adolph Anderson, and several days ago Dr Dunn of the Southern Pacific was called in to care for the pensioner of the railroad On Tuesday a priest was summoned to administer to the invalid

Garrity became angry and Wednesday morning appearing stronger than he had for several months, left the home at 1566 Webster street Anderson said yesterday "I don't know what can have happened to the poor old man. For weeks he had not gone out of the house. His strength would hardly last out a walk of a block, and we did not know when he might die. I am fearful lest he went away to die somewhere alone unless there was a friend to care for him

'Mr Garrity has been failing so rapidly of late that my wife and I called a doctor and a priest for him and that seemed to drive the old man into a rage. 'Our hope is that his sister, who was a refugee, may have found him Her name used to be Maggie Adams, but I don't know what it is now. I have heard that she has married"

Garrity is described as being stooped with age and sickness. When he left home Garrity wore a heavy overcoat

EARNS LIVING PITCHING HAY

Editor of "Blue and Gold" Toiling on Ranch in Tehama County.

BERKELEY, June 22.—Driven from his home by the San Francisco fire and with all his belongings destroyed, Maurice Harrison, a member of the class of 1908 at the university, and elected this spring to edit the Blue and Gold, the college annual, for next year, has left the city and procured a position on a ranch in Tehama county. In this manner he hopes to gain money enough to continue his studies at the university and fulfill his obligations to the class which appointed him to this position.

Harrison was one of the most prominent debaters in the university and was also a brilliant student. When it was learned that he would not be able to return to college to edit the Blue and Gold, there was consternation in the ranks of his class. No other man was considered capable of fulfilling the duties of the position and the outlook for the annual for next year was considered very poor.

With characteristic energy, however, Harrison procured the job on the ranch and is now pitching hay and driving mules in order to find money for his next year at college. He expects to be about a month late in entering, as he will not be able to earn enough money before that time, but will be here in time to take up the work of editing the annual.

LIBRARY IS AGAIN OPEN

After Many Delays, Berkeley People Are Able to Obtain Books.

BERKELEY, June 22.—Yesterday for the first time since the San Francisco disaster, books were loaned from the local public library, and as a result hundreds of persons who have anxiously awaited the opening have been flocking there all day. The fact that the library has been closed for three months has caused considerable criticism and complaint about town, but the delay in opening the doors has been explained by Librarian Moore, who declares that the work of repairing the damaged building was accomplished in as short a space of time as possible.

In the first place, Moore says the library, despite its delapidated condition as a result of the shake-up, opened several days after the earthquake, but was closed by the health officer, who feared disease might be scattered if the refugees were permitted to congregate in a public building. Under this order the library was kept closed for two weeks and was about to reopen when the building inspector, according to Moore, ordered that it remain closed until the condition of the walls could be thoroughly tested, there being several large cracks in the rear elevation. This required two weeks longer, it being necessary for several experts and engineers to make a thorough inspection.

Then began the work of repairing the damage, which was found to be far greater than it appeared at first. Nearly every room suffered, the principal damage consisting of falling of plaster. Both chimneys fell, breaking 500 tiles on the roof. It was found that the rear was uninjured but for the cracks, but it required some time to repair them.

RETURN FROM INSTITUTE.

BERKELEY, June 22.—Prof. C. W. Woodworth, of the entomology department of the University of California, and assistant professor F. T. Bioletti, in charge of the viticultural work of the university, returned yesterday from a farmers' institute at Windsor, near Healdsburg. The sessions were held in a church, as the hall was shaken down by the earthquake. It was programmed to be held in a grove under the open sky, but this plan had to be abandoned, because of the rain of the day before. The church was crowded by the farmers.

BERKELEY PEOPLE MAY VOTE ON WATER SYSTEM

Committee Has Been Appointed to Look Into Feasibility of High-Pressure Scheme.

BERKELEY, June 22.—As the result of considerable discussion at the meeting of the Board of Trustees last night it is probable that a $300,000 high pressure water system for fighting fires may be included among the bonding propositions to be submitted to the people of Berkeley on July 21. President Rickard appointed Trustees Shad and Connor and City Engineer McClure a committee to look into the feasibility of the high pressure water scheme.

Despite the fact that Trustee Connor was named to be a member of the committee he manifested considerable opposition to the plan from the outset. When he stoutly demanded that the water system be omitted entirely from the bonding proposition President Rickard wanted to know if he did not want to give the people of Berkeley a chance to vote on the proposition and decide the matter for themselves. President Rickard did not believe it incumbent on a single trustee to decide a bonding matter for the entire citizenship at large.

The report of the committee on the water scheme will probably be made at the next meeting of the board that the matter may be in time to be incorporated in the bond issue.

COMMUNICATION RECEIVED.

In the course of the discussion the following communication from the Conference Committee of the Improvement Clubs was read:

To the Honorable Board of Town Trustees: At the last meeting of the Conference Committee the following resolutions were introduced and after discussion were adopted:

1. That the Conference Committee recommends to the Board of Trustees that the proposed call for bonds be for the construction of a pressure system for fire purposes, which we believe to be the only feasible system for Berkeley, and that we think that the acquiring of engines which would be useless under a pressure system is not the proper policy for the town to follow.

2. That the Conference Committee does not indorse the proposition to bond the town for a town hall.

NEW BANDSTAND IN ALAMEDA.

ALAMEDA, June 22.—Holding the weekly band concert on Park street proved a successful innovation last night, as hundreds of people promenaded up and down the main street listening to the strains of music. A new bandstand has been erected on the Thompson property, between Central and Santa Clara avenues. The concerts have been held in the City park heretofore.

BERKELEY, June 22.—Among distinguished men who are to be in Berkeley during the coming summer session at the University of California is Dr. W. G. Ballintine. He is the author of several books, his latest publication being called "Industrial Logic," published in 1895.

TO CELEBRATE JULY FOURTH

West End Alameda Improvement Association Preparing a Program.

ALAMEDA, June 22.—The Fourth of July is to be publicly observed in this city this year by evening exercises to be held in the Wigwam, West end, under the auspices of the West End Alameda Improvement Association. At the meeting of that organization last night this was decided upon, and Martin Owens, Dr. H. A. Miller, F. P. Royle and T. I. McCarthy were appointed a committee of arrangements. This committee will meet next Sunday afternoon at the home of C. R. Smith at 739 Railroad avenue.

It is proposed to have a literary and musical program. Patriotic speeches will be delivered. Joe Hooker post, G. A. R., will be asked to participate.

The club also decided to boost along the charter. B. C. Brown, one of the freeholders who framed the measure, gave an interesting talk on its many points.

THURSDAY CONCERTS IN GREEK THEATER

BERKELEY, June 22.—There will be concerts in the Greek Theater at half past three every Thursday afternoon throughout the summer session. The University orchestra, with Dr. J. Fred Wolle, professor of music in the university, as conductor, will give symphony concerts on June 28, and July 12 and 26. Programs of chamber music will be given by the Minetti string quartet on July 5 and 19, and August 2. The quartet will consist of Giulio Minetti, first violin; Hans Koenig, second violin; Andre Verdier, viola; and Arthur Weiss, 'cellist. All four of these players are members of the University orchestra. The orchestra itself will be much the same as that which gave six concerts during the past winter with such eminent success, although a certain number of its members have left this community since the recent disasters.

To hear the noble music played in the inspiring surroundings of the beautiful Greek Theater, there in the quiet of the high woods, with the blue sky overhead, will be an experience not to be forgotten.

A HEALTHY OLD AGE
OFTEN THE BEST PART OF LIFE
Help for Women Passing Through Change of Life

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Nervous exhaustion invites disease. This statement is the positive truth.

When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation, and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up woman's nervous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration. Mrs. Mary L. Koehne, 371 Garfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years in my family and it never disappoints; so when I felt that I was nearing the change of life I commenced treatment with it. I took in all about six bottles and it did me a great deal of good. It stopped my dizzy spells, pains in my back and the headaches with which I had suffered for months before taking the Compound. I feel that if it had not been for this great medicine for women that I should not have been alive to-day. It is splendid for women, old or young, and will surely cure all female disorders."

Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick and ailing women to write her for advice. Her great experience is at their service, free of cost.

Berkeley Trustees Take First Step Toward Bond Election for Improvements.

★ That the plans and estimates of cost, heretofore submitted to the board of trustees for the following proposed municipal improvements, to-wit:

First, for the improvement of the fire department by the acquisition of land, firehouses, supplies and apparatus.

Second, for the purchase and installation of a police alarm system.

Third, for the acquisition and improvement of the town wharf and the necessary land therefore.

Fourth, for the erection and construction of a town hall, and furnishing the same; also for the acquisition of additional land as a site therefor.

Be and the same are hereby accepted, ratified and approved and adopted by the said board of trustees for the purpose of calling a special election for a bonded indebtedness to carry out said municipal improvements.—Resolution adopted by the Berkeley board of town trustees last night. ★

BERKELEY, June 22.—The first tangible steps in the proposition to submit to the people of Berkeley a bond election for the purpose of acquiring a number of needed municipal improvements were taken at the meeting of the Board of Trustees last night when the reports of the sub-committees of the board, favoring certain propositions to be included in the call for the bond election were adopted. The next step in the plan to place the bonding scheme before the people will be adopted declaring that the public necessity calls for the stipulated improvements which cannot be acquired from the city's annual tax income. The final step will be taken at the following meeting when an ordinance will be passed calling for the election.

The reports received by the trustees last night advise the expenditure of $398,100 as follows: For the improvement of the fire department, $50,000; for the purchase and improvement of the West Berkeley wharf, $100,000; for a fire alarm system, $11,000 and for a new town hall and site, $137,000.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The committee appointed to look into the needs of the Berkeley fire department presented the following report to the board:

Your committee appointed to prepare plans and estimates for the improvement of the fire department of Berkeley begs leave to report as follows:

From a careful examination we believe and therefore recommend that $50,000 be called for the fire department the same to be expended as follows:

For the purchase of that certain lot of land and the improvements thereon now used by the Berkeley fire department and known and designed as the North Berkeley fire house, which said land is particularly described in that lease made by W. H. Marston to the Town of Berkeley and dated June 25, 1905, which said lease is hereby referred to for a more particular description of the property to be acquired, the purchase price of the same to be $3941.74.

For the purchase of that certain piece of land and the improvements thereon now leased by the Town of Berkeley from Andrew Abrott by that certain indenture of lease made and executed upon the 15th day of March, 1906, which said lease is hereby referred to and made a part of this report for a full and a particular description of this said property, the same now being used as a fire house by the West Berkeley fire department, the cost of the same to be $5218.30.

For the purchase of that certain building erected by John Hinkle and C. E. Miller upon that certain lot owned by the Town of Berkeley upon Regent street and being the easterly 100 feet of lot 11 in block "D" of the Hillegass tract, said building now being leased to the Town of Berkeley and used as a fire house, the same to cost $4661.40.

EXPENDITURES.

For the following: New location for fire house for No. 3, $7000; new fire house for No. 2, $7500; one straight chemical engine for No. 2, $2500; one straight chemical engine for No. 1, $2500; horses and equipment for same at $1250; 2000 feet of hose for department at 80 cents per foot, $1600; new hose wagon for No. 5, $450; horses and equipment for same, $600; new truck for No. 2, $2500; horses and equipment for same, $700; twenty new fire alarm boxes, $2000; installation of same, $200; one gasoline fire engine for No. 3, $2300; seven chemical hand extinguishers with chargers, $190; hose wagon for No. 1, $450; horses and equipment for same, $600; one runabout automobile for fire chief, $1500; nozzles, siamese couplings, equipments, etc., $2239.56; total amount necessary to carry out said improvements, $50,000.

Respectfully submitted,
A. F. SHAD.
THOMAS RICKARD.

POLICE ALARM SYSTEM.

Trustees Olsen and Favor, the committee on the police alarm system, submitted the following report:

"Your committee appointed for the purpose of preparing the plans and estimates of the cost and purchasing and installing a police alarm system begs leave to report as follows:

"We recommend the purchase of the Gamewell system of automatic, continuous, recorded, balanced, circuit police telegraph, including the signal light system to operate in conjunction with said police telegraph system, said signal system to consist of ten signal lights, said lights to be of the standard incandescent light of thirty-two candlepower, all as more particularly set out in the specifications for said system now on file in the clerk's office and hereby referred to and made a part of this report, the said system to cost $10,500.

"One underground cable for police and fire alarm wires, the estimated cost of which is $600.

"The committee therefore recommends that $11,100 will be required for the purchase and installation of said improvements."

TOWN HALL.

The committee consisting of Trustees Olsen and Shad and Building Inspector Bull reported as follows on the town hall proposition:

"We submit herewith a rough draft of plans prepared by competent architects and recommend, after a thorough investigation, that a fireproof building, such as shown in said plans, can be erected and constructed at a total cost of $110,000.

"We find that the proper equipment of the same will require the expenditure of $10,000.

"It will be necessary to purchase the hereinafter described lands as an additional site for said city hall, said property being situated in the town of Berkeley."

Then follows in the committee report a specific description locating the property, which consists of the old town hall site and the adjoining land purchased by Captain Marston and held by him for the city.

The report concludes as follows:

"The total cost of the erection, construction and equipment of said town hall and the purchase of the additional real property for a site will be $137,000."

WEST BERKELEY WHARF.

One of the most interesting and complete reports was that of City Engineer McClure on the proposed West Berkeley wharf. It is in full as follows:

"In obedience to your order as set forth in Resolution No. 1864 A, adopted by your honorable body at your meeting held June 11, I herewith submit to you plans, specifications and estimates for a wharf to be built in San Francisco bay, off the shore line of Berkeley, the center line of which wharf and the approach thereto shall be the center line of University avenue, produced in a straight line westerly. The project is set forth in the following items:

DIMENSIONS.

"Total length of approach from shore line to the inner end of proposed wharf, 2800 feet.

"Length of old approach, now in use, proposed to be repaired and retained, 1000 feet.

"Length of proposed additional approach, 24 feet.

"Proposed wharf, 650 feet long by 120 feet wide.

OUTLINE OF ESTIMATE OF COST.

"Land at present structure, $22,000; repairs of 1000 feet of old approach, $8850; additional approach, $21,000; wharf 650x120, $46,800; two sheds 24x100, $2400; four nine-pile dolphins, $1000; detail plan for contractor, supervision of construction and incidentals, $2350; total, $100,000.

DEPTH OF WATER.

"In the absence of any definite information regarding the low tide plane, it is impossible to give exact data as to depth of water. In my calculations, I have simply assumed that the top of the floor of the present structure, at a point 1000 feet from the shore line, is twelve feet above low tide plane. I am compelled to do this, because such plane can only be established by a long series of observations of the range of tides. It is unsafe to use the tide tables computed for the San Francisco bay, for such tables are based wholly upon observations made at Fort Point. The time of high or low tide on our water front is from an hour to one half or two hours later than the time set down in said tide tables; and I shall not be surprised if it is proven that the extreme range of tides is one foot greater here than at Fort Point. Upon this basis I have taken some soundings along the proposed location of wharf and approach, and find that we will have a depth of six feet at mean low tide at the proposed wharf, as against three feet at the point where vessels are now discharging. Vessels at full twelve feet draught have repeatedly discharged at the present wharf, and it is therefore safe to say that if our proposed plan is carried to completion, vessels of twelve feet draught can come to the new structure except at low tide. In general terms we gain three feet by going to the proposed location.

FURTHER EXTENSION.

"I do not advise going out farther at this time, because of the long distance to deeper water. I find that the depth for about one mile west of the proposed location remains the same. The cost of an additional mile of approach would be some $50,000 or more. In the plan as now outlined we propose to use the natural stick, untreated pile for foundation. Treated piles would cost about fifty per cent more than untreated, but would strongly recommend their use in any further extension of the wharf, as the insect enemies to the exposed piles will likely prove to be more numerous at any point 3000 feet or so out in the bay than near the shore. I am informed by those who are familiar with the present structure that there are piles in its foundation fully fourteen years old which are doing full service yet.

"It may not be out of place to state that the traffic over the present structure amounted to an average of 4152 tons per month for the year 1905. For detailed data concerning the proposed new structure you are referred to the plans and specifications accompanying this report. Respectfully submitted.

POTTER'S FIELD FOR HIS BODY

Unknown Man Found in Estuary May Never Be Identified.

ALAMEDA, June 22.—The body of the unknown man, which was picked up Wednesday morning in the estuary near the Webster street bridge, has not been identified and in all probability will not be, as the remains are so decomposed that there are almost beyond recognition. There are some effects that were found on the body which may lead to identification, the monogram "A. H. B." being engraved on his watch and embroidered on his handkerchief.

Attorney John S. Drum of San Francisco called at the morgue yesterday and asked to see the remains. He was very reticent as to his intention, but intimated that he had a friend who had suddenly disappeared and it was believed might have committed suicide. Drum took a piece of the man's suit, saying that he wished to consult friends. He returned again to the morgue, accompanied by two men. They examined the remains and the effects, but could not identify the body as that of their missing friend.

It is likely that the body will occupy a grave in the potter's field.

ALAMEDA CITIZENS OBJECT TO CHICKENS

ALAMEDA, June 22.—The keeping of poultry in this city is to be aired again before the city trustees. The board of health has drafted an ordinance which will prohibit the keeping of poultry within twenty-five feet of any dwelling house. This measure is to be presented to the city fathers for consideration.

The same matter was brought up some time ago, but at that time the keeping of poultry was prohibited altogether. It was squelched by the city trustees.

The health board has also decided to enforce the dairy ordinance in this city.

S.S.S. FOR THE BLOOD

The purifying action and curative properties of this great remedy have made "S. S. S. For The Blood" a household saying, and thousands who are today enjoying perfect health owe their recovery from blood or skin diseases to this universally used blood medicine. S. S. S. is made entirely from roots, herbs and barks which possess not only cleansing and healing ingredients, but building-up and strengthening properties to keep the blood in perfect order. No one can be well when the blood is impure; they lack the energy and strength that is natural with health, the complexion becomes pale and sallow, the vitality is weakened and they suffer from a general broken down condition. When the waste or refuse matter, which nature intends shall be thrown off, is left in the system because of a sluggish, torpid condition of the expelling members, it is absorbed into the blood, making this vital stream weak, sour and acrid, and its condition is manifested by boils, pimples, rashes, blotches and other eruptions of the skin. S. S. S. goes into the circulation and removes every particle of blood taint or poison of every character, makes the blood fresh and strong and gives energy to the entire body. When the blood has been cleansed by S. S. S. all skin diseases and eruptions pass away and the smooth, clear skin, glowing with health, shows that the body is being nourished by rich, pure blood. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep-seated blood disorders, and for their cure nothing equals S. S. S. It does not injuriously affect the most delicate parts of the body and can be taken with perfect safety by old or young. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired without charge.

America's Greatest Song Writer.

"I care not who writes a nation's laws if I may write its songs," is a historic epigram that suggests the irresistible strength of the appeal to the emotions and imagination made by the wedding of musical numbers to lyric poetry. James II was sung and whistled out of his kingdom to the tune of "Lullibulero." A parody on "Le Bon Roi Dagonet" gave the impulse to the dethronement and subsequent execution of Louis XVI.

But the world has produced few great song writers. How few, one can hardly realize till he stops to count them up And the songs that live, that appeal universally to the human heart, are rare. Thousands of beautiful lyrics set to noble music pass after a brief vogue into the forgotten list because they lack the one vital spark which fires sentiment the world over. "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" is dear to the hearts of hundreds of thousands who never heard of Ben Johnson, and who, if they do recall his name dimly, cannot remember why he is termed "Rare Ben Jonson" The sentiment of a song has lived longer than the plays and poetry of Shakespeare's mentor and one of the great literary lights of the Elizabethan age.

America has produced few song writers of eminence, yet she has produced one who has within half a century thrilled all mankind with his melody They unveiled a monument to him in Louisville the other day His name was Stephen Collins Foster. He was a native of Pennsylvania, but his finest songs hark from the South and present the pathetic and poetic side of plantation life in slavery days. Kentucky adopted Foster because he wrote "My Old Kentucky Home," which has become a familiar air wherever the English tongue is spoken. It was sung by Kitchener's men the night before they routed the Mahdi's forces in the Soudan.

Yet Foster wrote a song far more touching and universal in its appeal in 'The Old Folks at Home." This tender melody expresses the harking back of memory in every civilized human being to the scenes of childhood and the aged parents under the old roof tree. No other song in any language expresses this sentiment quite so well or so feelingly, or is so universal in its application. Although couched in the dialect of the negro slave of the South, it speaks the language of every race, expresses the purest and tenderest feeling of every heart in every land

Foster deserves a monument for writing "The Old Folks at Home" alone If he never did anything else, this one simple ballad is sufficient to immortalize him. The words and music are both his, while John Howard Payne did not write the music for "Home, Sweet Home" And, pervaded as it is by a tender, sweet, melancholy longing, "Home, Sweet Home" lacks the inclusive breadth of 'The Old Folks at Home. It does not recall memories of the old home, childhood's joys and playmates, the familiar spots made dear by infantile association, and the gray and bent forms by the deserted fireside whose thoughts follow wandering footsteps with unchanging affection. 'The Old Folks at Home" expresses all that is in "Home, Sweet Home" and Woodworth's "The Old Oaken Bucket,' and something besides. It will live as long as sentiment touches the human heart.

Stephen Collins Foster has been called "a great song writer but not a writer of great songs.' The description is not accurate. His songs are not great musical compositions, but they are great in their universal appeal to human sympathy. They do not rank high purely as musical compositions, but their mingled sentiment and melody, one and inseparable, are as haunting as the fragrance of the rose. The music and words blend in a harmonious appeal which set memory, fancy and sentiment to working in tender unison. Lyric skill can accomplish no greater or finer result The greatest composer that ever lived could not, even by putting forth all his genius and powers, get people to sing 'The Old Folks at Home" by any music other than Foster's. The spell of the words would be broken the moment he attempted it.

Foster was one of the most prolific song writers that ever lived. A recently published collection embraces some two hundred and twenty compositions, none of which can be really called bad, though many of them are mediocre. The ones most commonly sung are "The Old Folks at Home," "My Old Kentucky Home" "Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground," "Nelly Was a Lady," "Old Black Joe," "O, Carry Me Back to Virginia's Shore," "Hard Times Come Again No More." It must be remembered that in the days Foster wrote —he died in 1864—about the only medium an American song writer had for reaching the public was so-called negro minstrelsy. Plantation life, with its picturesque scenes and pathetic incidents, together with the negro's natural love for melody, no doubt appealed strongly to his sympathies and imagination, but conditions probably more than inclination led him to sing his songs in the dialect of the slave and to address the public from the cane and cotton fields.

Undoubtedly his songs did much to arouse popular sentiment against the institution of slavery. They did this without giving offense to the Southern people, for nowhere else were Foster's melodies so generally sung and so highly appreciated as at the South

"Nellie Gray" is as bitter an indictment of slavery as "Uncle Tom's Cabin," but it was sung with delight from the Potomac to the Rio Grande. It was no fierce appeal to passion, but the tragic lesson of its story crept into the heart by its weakest entrance and there abode forever after to influence the thought and direct future action

Nowadays a half dozen of Foster's songs would have made him rich and famous within the space of a few years, but Foster reaped little profit from his melodies He died poor. Like Poe, he was generally hard up. Once in a while one comes across an old negro minstrel song book containing "The Old Folks at Home, words and music by S. P. Christy." Foster not only sold the copyright but the author's right to his best composition to a negro minstrel, who sang it all over this country and Europe, and actually sold the song as his own production Well, the world is full of Christys, but the Fosters are very rare That is why we build monuments to them—after they die.

Upton Sinclair's revelations concerning the Chicago packing houses can only be described as "perfectly offal."

James D. Phelan has always been noted for his loyalty to his political supporters. The appointment of Charles W. Fay, his private secretary, and Edward F Moran, who was made secretary of the police commission at his instigation, to be relief commissioners at $6000 a year, as a proof that this reputation has been justly earned. But persons not having Mr. Phelan's personal and political reasons for the solicitude shown in behalf of Messrs. Fay and Moran are likely to cavil. They may question if the compensation is not rather large, and inquire if there are none but Mr. Phelan's political retainers qualified to handle relief work and particularly relief funds. Some, even, will be disposed to ask if any such high salaried agents of relief are necessary.

Up to date neither Mr Bryan nor Editor Hearst has endorsed Judge Parker's suggestion that the Democrats nominate a Southern man for President. This may be impertinent, but it is significant.

A Reign of Murder and Rapine.

About a fortnight ago a dispatch from Russian Poland said a Jew anarchist had thrown a bomb into a religious procession of the Russian orthodox church, and that a general massacre of Jews was likely to result. The dispatch closed with the announcement that the government authorities would permit no more news to be sent out from the seat of disturbance. At last, however, news is creeping out. A general massacre of Jews has taken place, as was predicted, and the massacre has been accompanied by a general looting of Jewish stores and dwellings; also the other unspeakable outrages which attend mob attacks on Jews in Russia. A Russian patriotic paper has been suppressed for saying the bomb-throwing was instigated by government officials who desired to arouse religious fanaticism in order to counteract the revolutionary movement. It is quite evident that the civil and military authorities made little or no effort to protect the Jews from rapine and slaughter. In some cases it is stated that soldiers and civilian officials participated with the mob in the work of murder and robbery, just as was done at Kishineff. This may or may not be true, but we do know that the government organs have been appealing to the religious prejudices of the orthodox Russians in the effort to stem the popular movement for representative government. The reactionary journals have been telling their readers that the liberty movement is engineered by Jews, atheists, Poles and foreigners generally, all enemies of the Orthodox Church. Thus we see that the government inspired press has heated and prepared the ignorant followers of the national church for just such outbreaks as have recently occurred. When the riots do take place, it follows as a matter of course that the government will not take stern measures to suppress them, for the simple reason that the rioters are the most devoted adherents of the Czar. Being loyal to church and crown, and the existing order, the rioters have practical immunity for their crimes. The Czar dare not alienate the chief bulwark of his state, hence the Jews appeal in vain for protection when assailed by fanatical mobs fired by race hatred and religious bigotry. By mere force of circumstances the Czar has become instigator and abettor of the most horrible crimes, which prove how unfitted he is to rule and how iniquitous is the system he represents.

There is great and growing complaint because the streets are not sprinkled. The dust not only causes general annoyance and inconvenience, but it entails considerable loss on merchants who are absolutely unable to protect delicate fabrics from being soiled and damaged by the clouds of filthy particles the breezes bear in from the street. Surely the Board of Public Works can in a measure abate this nuisance. If there is no money in the city treasury to pay for street sprinkling, let the hat be passed and the streets sprinkled by subscription. Anything is better than the intolerable condition which now exists.

The House has voted for a lock canal, whereat the Senate promptly voted for one on the sea level. That is one way of passing the buck up to the President, who left it to Congress to decide what kind of a waterway should be excavated, as a sea level canal will cost in the neighborhood of $150,000,000 more than one with locks. But the two Houses have agreed to disagree, which leaves the matter just where it was before. In the meantime there is necessity for expedition in canal digging, for the people of the whole country are in a fever of impatience for an early completion of the canal. It is unfortunate that an enterprise of such magnitude and international importance cannot be treated in a broader and fairer spirit, but it seems that the grave and reverend seigniors of the Senate can exhibit all the perversity of a woman at times. Morgan of Alabama naturally arrayed himself against a lock canal, for he has been an obstructionist ever since the Nicaragua project was turned down, but it is difficult to understand why Republican Senators should line up with him, especially in a matter so vital to the national interests.

AN ERA IN ALAMEDA JOURNALISM.

The establishing of a Sunday edition by THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE marks an era in Alameda county journalism. It is the most notable evidence yet at hand of the growth of the communities on this side of the bay toward metropolitanism. The edition that THE TRIBUNE puts forth compares very favorably with any of the Sunday issues, and plans are going forward for its further improvement in many ways. When every plan is carried out there will without doubt be a Sunday issue on this side of the bay that will not be eclipsed by any that comes into comparison with it.—Alameda Argus.

AN IDYLL OF THE DESERT.

The elephant sat in the lemon tree,
A-swaying to and fro;
And a beautiful warbling song sang he
To the whale on the branch below—
Though a cold wind blew from the distant sea,
And the desert was deep in snow.

And this is the song that the elephant sung,
To the tenderly dreaming whale;
(For the month was May and the two were young,
And she loved his trunk as it swayed and swung
In the icy tropical gale)—

"Oh, come, my love, let us fly away
To a warmer clime than this,
On the palm-lined beaches of Baffin's Bay,
Let us live in lifelong bliss,
With no one to list to the words we say,
And no one to watch us kiss!"

But the whale was shy and she dropped her eye,
And she blushed a beautiful green;
And the elephant hopped from his perch on high
To the side of his bosom's queen;
And she heaved a sigh as he fluttered nigh,
Like a 30 h. p machine.

INSOMNIA CURED

RESTFUL SLEEP SECURED BY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

Nerves Wrecked by Apoplexy Restored to Normal Condition and Good Health Followed.

The sufferer from sleeplessness too often resorts to habit-forming drugs in order to obtain the coveted rest. But sleep obtained by the use of opiates is not refreshing and the benefit is but temporary at best. To obtain sleep that renews the mental and physical vigor, clears the brain and fits the body for the work of the day, the nerves must be in normal condition. Healthy nerves are not to be obtained by drugging them but by toning up the nervous system. The best nerve tonic and therefore the safest remedy for insomnia is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Mrs H. A. Fletcher, of 59 Blodget street, Manchester, N H. is living evidence of the truth of this statement She says: "I received a shock of an apoplectic character It was so severe that the sight of my right eye was affected, causing me to see objects double I was confined to my bed about four weeks, at one time being told by the doctor that I could not get well. When I could leave my bed I was in such a nervous state that I could not sleep at night. I would get up and sit on a chair until completely tired out and then go back to bed and sleep from exhaustion.

"I had been under the doctor's care for six weeks when my sister, Mrs. Loveland, of Everett, persuaded me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I began taking the pills with the result that I soon experienced relief. One night soon after taking them I lay awake only a short time and the next night I rested well. From that time I slept well every night and soon got well and strong I have recommended Pink Pills for Pale People a number of times, and my niece has taken them for weak nerves and poor blood and found them very beneficial."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are not a cure-all, but a blood builder. They do one thing and they do it well—they actually make new blood. They cure nervous disorders because the condition of the nerves depends upon the number of red corpuscles in the blood, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills increase the number of these red corpuscles. By this action on the nerves, through the blood they have cured many severe nervous troubles, headache, neuralgia and sciatica as well as diseases of the blood, such as anaemia, rheumatism, pale and sallow complexions and many forms of weakness. All druggists sell Dr Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co, Schenectady, N. Y.

THEY LAUGHED

At the Arguments on the Packages.

The husband of an Ohio woman brought home some packages of Grape-Nuts one evening and there was much discussion, but let her tell the story.

"Two years ago I was thin and sickly and suffered so from indigestion, was very nervous, and could not sleep at night. I was not able physically or mentally to perform my duties and was constantly under the care of our physician. I had tried plain living and all the different remedies recommended by friends, but go no better.

"One day my husband brought home two yellow boxes and said, 'The grocer wants us to try this food and report how we like it, he thinks it will help you.' I read all it said on the boxes about Grape-Nuts and I remember how I laughed at it, for I thought it foolish to think food could help me. But the next meal we all ate some with cream. We liked and enjoyed the deliciously crisp and new flavor, so we kept on using Grape-Nuts, not because we thought it would cure me but because we liked it.

"At that time we had no idea what the results would be, but now I am anxious to have the world know that today I am a well and strong woman physically and mentally. I gained over 30 pounds, do not suffer from any of the old ails and I know that it is to Grape-Nuts alone that I owe my restored health. They call me Grape-Nuts, here in the home and all of my friends have asked me the cause of it all. I have persuaded several of them to use Grape-Nuts and every one of them who has done so has been benefitted, and I wish it were in my power to induce everyone who is sick to give this wonderful food a trial. We still have Grape-Nuts three times a day and never tire of it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ten days on this nourishing and completely digestible food will show anyone who is run down from improper feeding a great change, sometimes worth more than a gold mine because it may mean the joy and spring of perfect health in place of the old ails. Trial proves. "There's a reason."

OVERLOOKED END OF TERM

In Excitement Following Fire President Forgets He Is Out of Office.

BERKELEY, June 22.—Considerable surprise was caused last night at the meeting of the board of town trustees when a letter from President Rickard of the board was read, in which that official stated that his term as presiding officer of the board had expired some two months ago. He stated in the letter that in the excitement following the quake and the fire the fact was overlooked. Mr. Rickard gives a resume of the part that Berkeley, her citizens and officials played during the recent calamity. He publicly praises the actions of Marshal Vollmer, Fire Chief Kenny and the health department. The complete letter follows:

"Due to the disturbing conditions to which we have all been subjected, I have overlooked the fact that my term as president of your board expired two months ago, and I beg to apologize for this oversight.

"The recent disaster to our sister city has had a far-reaching effect, and many of our townspeople have met with serious loss. Notwithstanding this, our latchstrings were out for the unfortunate, and the name of Berkeley has become synonomous with hospitality. I wish to publicly thank each and every one of our town officials for the manner in which they conducted their departments during this trying period, and particularly the chiefs of police, fire and health departments.

RELIEF COMMITTEE WORK.

"I wish also to express sincere appreciation of the work done by the relief committee, so ably presided over by Rev. E. L. Parsons, and also to many citizens who patrolled the town during the nights following the calamity.

"Circumstances make it difficult to fully review the work of the past year; suffice it to say that I believe it has been well done, and I again tender thanks to the officials of the town for their conscientious assistance.

"During the last year we have grappled with many important matters, not least among them being the liquor question, and I think our solution of it meets with general approval.

"We are gradually approaching a realization of our hopes as to the organization of our fire and police departments and have every reason to be proud of both.

"The finances of the town are in good condition and the untiring efforts of our assessor are soon to yield us a very much larger income than we had during the past year.

HELP OF CITIZENS.

"Pending the voting of bonds, which will soon be submitted, many of our citizens have come to our assistance in the purchase of property and erection of fire houses. Our thanks are due to Messrs. W. H. Marston, A. Abrodt, John Hinkle, C. E. Miller and A. W. Naylor for what they have done for us in this regard.

"I thank you all for the courteous treatment accorded me during my term as your presiding officer, and hope our pleasant relations will always continue. Yours truly

"THOMAS RICKARD."

RICKARD PRAISED.

In explaining the first paragraph of the letter President Rickard stated that he could not serve the board with all his time as he did formerly owing to his business interests in San Francisco demanding his attention.

This brought forth a eulogy on President Rickard by Trustee Connors. Connors praised the good work of the president of the board in the past and stated that he had the best interests of Berkeley at heart and could, even with his limited time, serve the town well, as he was perfectly familiar with the conditions.

The board then unanimously voted to retain President Rickard in the chair though he had but little time to devote to the duties of the office.

DELEGATES TO ENCAMPMENT

E. H. Liscum Camp No. 7, Spanish War Veterans, met last night in their hall in the Foresters' hall, Thirteenth and Clay streets for the purpose of perfecting plans for securing the 1907 encampment for Oakland.

Sam Bercovich was elected a delegate to the annual encampmbent, which is to be held in Los Angeles on July 1st, 2d, 3d and 4th. It is expected that over thirty members of Liscum Camp will go to Los Angeles and a determined effort will be made to secure the 1907 encampment for Oakland. The members will take the train from the Oakland pier, where delegates from all the tents in the State will board the special for Los Angeles.

Liscum Camp announces that all persons wishing to take advantage of the occasion to visit Los Angeles may get excursion rates by applying to T. J. Thompson, 1112 Broadway, whether they are members of the Spanish War Veterans or not.

At last night's meeting W. S. Dunne was elected a delegate to the National encampment, which is to be held in Washington in October.

DOG CALLS GIRL TO SAVE DROWNING BOY

CLEAR LAKE, Iowa, June 22.—Assisted by a pet dog, Miss Martha Witze a domestic in the employ of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mann, today saved the little son of Professor and Mrs. E. A. Patchan from drowning. The girl waded out in the lake to where the body had gone down for the third time and with the water to her chin worked the body toward shore with her feet, finally succeeding in resuscitating the youngster.

The dog swimming frantically about the spot, had attracted the atention of the girl.

MORMONISM IN CHICAGO

Judge Says That Town Is Becoming the Mecca of Free Lovers.

CHICAGO June 21.—In his annual report to the supreme court Judge John D Gibbons of the circuit bench says:

Chicago is the Mecca of all the misguided members of the human family seeking solace in free love

The law of divorce here prevailing [illegible] enforced practically establishes [illegible]ed Mormonism."

The jurist asserts that nearly ten per [illegible] of the families of Chicago seek d[illegible]s, and that about ninety-five per cent of the suits are instituted in behalf of abandoned, abused or dependent wo[illegible] "Nearly every one of them has [illegible] one to six children at her apron [illegible]s, who must necessarily in most [illegible] become a charge upon the com[illegible]ity.

"If either husband or wife becomes disgusted for any cause, he or she applies [illegible] a divorce without much danger of its [illegible]g refused," declares Judge Gibbons. "I am not an alarmist, but I do say that our present system of divorce laws must necessarily result in the debasement of public morals I would amend the law so as to permit absolute divorce only for infidelity."

NOT READY FOR A BIG TARIFF WAR

BERLIN, June 22.—At a meeting of the Central Association of German Manufacturers, embracing most of the great manufacturers' organizations of the country, held at Nuremburg the general secretary, Herr Bueck, referring to the trade arrangements with the United States, said the association supported the temporary extension of the treaty duties to the United States because German industry at this moment was not sufficiently prepared for a tariff war with the United States. A continuance of the situation created by the temporary arrangement however, would be irreconcilable either with the economic interests or dignity of the German empire The general secretary felt it necessary, therefore, to warn German industry to prepare in good time for a tariff war which would be unavoidable if the United States thinks it can continue treating German goods unfairly

RELIANCE CLUB SECURES PIEDMONT POWER HOUSE

The Reliance Athletic club yesterday concluded a deal whereby t secured the use of the large building known as the Piedmont power house and in this structure the club is to establish handball courts and possibly an indoor tennis court The power house is one of the largest buildings in the city and will provide an excellent place for the holding of boxing exhibitions It will be possible to seat several thousand people three or four times as many as the present gymnasium in the Reliance club building can accommodate The fight the club is to give on the evening of Tuesday July 3 will be held in the new quarters

The Reliance has also concluded arrangements whereby Reliance members will secure special privileges from the Piedmont baths The baths adjoin the power house building and it will be convenient for the reliance boys after a few rounds of handball to step into the baths and take a cold or hot plunge in salt or fresh water as they may desire

The Reliance proposes that its coming fight show will be the most successful in the history of the club Being able to accommodate a greater crowd it is possible for the club to offer larger purses for the fighters and as a result good talent will be secured Negotiations are now pending for a main event that will interest fans all along the coast

Announcement of the principals will be made in a few days but just at present Matchmaker Eddie Smith prefers to give out nothing definite fearing it may be necessary to make some changes in the present program

STANDING OF TEAMS IS PUZZLE

PORTLAND June 22—What is the real standing of the teams in the Pacific Coast league? Everybody interested in baseball has been asking for a week past and the mix-up is not settled yet

All the trouble has been caused by President Bert saying that he never authorized the new percentage race that began two weeks ago Bert said he intended to straighten the affair out at once but just now it is in a worse tangle than ever The newspapers seem perplexed for one day they print one set of averages the next day another

Judge W W McCredie owner of the Portland baseball club and vice president of the league ought to know what he's talking about when he says positively that the new averages are or should be the correct ones All this talk to the effect that the judge misunderstood the whole matter when he announced the new race in the north is placed in a sort of queer light Here is what Judge McCredie said about it yesterday

There is no doubt whatever but the Pacific Coast league magnates did decide to begin a new pennant race I'm not a bit mistaken about it I was there when it came up and all the other directors but Morley were there too I think Bert was in the room but I'm not sure about Secretary Anderson

Val Ewing owner of the San Francisco club proposed it He said that the playing of the different teams had been seriously affected by the confusion after the earthquake and it would be fair to all concerned as soon as we began playing again under the old schedule

NO DISSENTING VOTE

There wasn't a dissenting vote to that motion Everything was then as the head of the list and Portland was well up so that nobody to grin but since Ewing was silent I couldn't well object It was really for Seattle's benefit I remember Jim Morley said he certainly could not object to it as it would help his team along

That's now the whole thing happened As soon as I was over Ewing called me to one side and told me about the new idea but asked him to say nothing about it till just before the time set for it to begin I certainly was not and I'm not mistaken for that is just what happened I shall write at once to Ewing and find out from him what this changing and changing back again means

I have a great deal of the old magnate want to return to the old standing again through a desire to help the new man who took Morley's place at Los Angeles The Angels were well up in the first division and now they are near the foot

This is the order in which the teams line up under the new averages Portland San Francisco Seattle Fresno Oakland Los Angeles

This is their order under the old averages San Francisco Portland Los Angeles Seattle Oakland Fresno

WANT LOCAL ENTRIES TO MEET

The Olympic club of San Francisco has planned a monster athletic meet to be held in the new stadium at Golden Gate Park on July 4

One of the features of the meet will be the races for school boys of both the high and grammar schools' Many entries from this side of the bay are wanted to compete The Oakland boys have never competed against the San Francisco athletes on their home grounds The events are as follows

One hundred yard dash 16 pound hammer throw one mile run broad jump 10 yard novice race (for athletes who never won a prize before) pole vault 120 yard high hurdle handicap 16 pound shotput 440-yard dash high jump 50-yard dash for grammar school boys 220-yard handicap one mile relay high school teams (six men)

The committee in charge is composed of T I Fitzpatrick Max Rosenfeld and Al Coney

All high and grammar school boys who wish to compete should send to L V Thompson who has charge of all school entries for entry blanks The entries close June 28 All comunications should be sent to the Olympic club 1050 Eddy street San Francisco

ENTRIES WILL BE CLOSED TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO June 22—Entries for the state championship tennis tournament close this afternoon at the California club courts Bush and Scott streets The men have until tomorrow afternoon in which to enter The drawings for both events will be held immediately after the entries close up to last night the following names were on the list Harold Getz Harold Gabriel George James Charles Foley Carl Gardner E P Flanegan Alber Kenyon B F Nourse Melville Long George Busch Herbert Long Maurice McLaughlin H Elliott George Guerin and James A Code The following have entered for the ladies event Miss Gladys Myer Miss Annabel Vodden Miss Ida Mearns Mrs Niemeyer and Miss Vera Crocker

While these players include the best players in the city there should be many more on the lists Tennis players hereabout are numerous enough and it will surely not harm any one's game to take a chance in an event of this kind

H Elliot who is entered in the men's tournament is one of the crack players of Southern California He has been spending some of his time on the California club courts and has made a good impression on the fans He plays a steady game and should give a good account of himself in the coming event

It is the intention of the committee in charge of the tournament to charge admission into the grounds for each days play This will be the first time that such a scheme has been attempted in this city outside of the intercollegiate matches and it remains to be seen with what success it will meet Tennis enthusiasts turn out for every tournament and it is not thought that the nominal fee that will be asked will keep many away The tournament will develop considerable high-class play and as a rule the matches will be well worth the price of admission

Drummond MacGavin has not yet placed his name on the entry list but he may do so He has been practicing some and continues to play in high class form Charles Foley and George Janes have been turning out early in the forenoon for practice on the club courts

ELLIOTT'S RESIGNATION REBUKE TO THE FACULTY

Protest Against Playing of Rugby.

BERKELEY June 22—Roy H Elliott the captain-elect of the University of California football team has sent in his resignation to the executive committee of the Associated Students and is now on his way to Alaska where he has accepted a position with a mining company Elliott played left end on the varsity in the last two games and was full-back on the freshman team He was vice-president of the Associated Students last year and a member of the Beta Theat Pi, the Winged Helmet and the Golden Bear.

GLOVE THROWN DOWN.

In the resignation of Elliott the glove has been thrown down to the faculty of the University for their recent action in forcing the Rugby game of football down the throats of the collegians The effect of the stand taken by Elliott will be far-reaching It is but the beginning of the uprising of the student body of the university in protest against the new-fangled game which the powers that be have ordained that they shall play in spite of the general sentiment of the student body of the university against it.

BREWING A LONG TIME.

The trouble between the student body and the faculty on the footbal question has been brewing for a long time. President Wheeler and Colonel Edwards in spite of the attitude of the students was bound to have the Rugby game played The fact that the old game was very popular and carried with it the old traditions of college life did not alter the case a whit

President Wheeler decreed that the new game should be played and the students were told to play that or nothing It was pointed out that if Rugb, was played the new California football field would have to be widened at an expense of $7000 The Associated Students were already in debt for $5000 and to incur this extra debt was not to their liking especially as the Rugby game would not draw the crowds of spectators and thus pay the bills

HELD MASS MEETING

In the middle of March the students headed by the football men held a mass meeting to protest against the action of the president forcing Rugby upon them Captain Elliott and Prentiss Gray the two most popular and brilliant players of the eleven made speeches in which they condemned the faculty for the stand that they had taken in the matter of football The meeting was a secret affair but nevertheless it was printed in all the papers and was thus brought to the attention of the president of the university But he refused to consider the interests of the students and still adhered to his opinion that the old game should be played

ROY H. ELLIOTT, WHO HAS RESIGNED CAPTAINCY OF BERKELEY BASEBALL TEAM.

PAPER MUZZLED

Meanwhile the Daily Californian the student daily was muzzled and could not in any way voice the opinion of the student body in their efforts to change the mind of President Wheeler in the matter Many and loud were the protests heard on the campus but as for appearing in cold print the idea would have meant the instant dismissal from college of the editor of the Californian and a portion of his staff In this way the general public was allowed to believe that the student body of the university was heartily in favor of the new game

But now comes the resignation of Elliott and this promises to be the talk of the college students throughout their summer vacations When they return to college next fall there will likely be such a general sentiment of he student body against the Rugby game that the act creating it will have to be repealed

OAKLANDS GO AROUND IN DIZZY PROCESSION

The Oaklands decisively beat the Angels at Idora park yesterday They took the second game of the series easily by the score of 11 to 3 Heitmuller the new Oakland first baseman followed up his work of the previous day and made good with the stick slamming out a hard two bagger in the last of the fourth

With a lead of one run in their section of the first appearance at the bat the Commuters kept well in the lead of the southerners all through the fight In the first half of the third the Angels came up strongly with three tallies but when the Commuters appeared at the club in the latter half of the same inning they sprang into the lead by scoring just six runs Six hits in succession helped some for the Oakland batting but they haven't done that in many a long day The crowd went wild and its cheers the Commuters won't want supporters in the stands after yesterday's display

In that little exhibition of what the Oaklanders can do when the so-called proposed Walthrous led off with a drive that tumbled into the outfield before it was checked by Cravath He was a bit out of commission with one of his umbilicals and Bruk Devereaux was detailed to go the sliding Kruger bowed with a clean little drive into the same corner of the garden Heine Heitmuller the colt ge veteran followed with a good triple into the central portion of the field which left the bases full Bliss followed with a hard slam along the third sack line which scored Walthrous and Kruger Devereaux got his base on balls and again filled the sacks With a timely little liner through Pitcher Hall Francks scored Heitmuller and Bliss

Hale, sacrificed landing safely on the initial sack and the bases were full for the third time in the inning Cates the Oakland twirler slammed out a clean one into the infield which brought in Devereaux Francks sneaked home and ended the merry go round

The inning proved the downfall of Hall the Angeles twirler for the southerners Luther Burns into the box into the box in a vain hope to keep the score down

The twirlers slated to deliver 'em up at today's game are Smith and Steltz Play will be called at 3 30 Yesterday's score

WILL DISCUSS FIGHTING GAME

SAN FRANCISCO June 22—The board of directors of the Pacific Amateur Association will meet this evening at the Olympic Club for the first time since the disaster and many things will come up for consideration The most important will be the handling of the boxing question

Just before April 18 there was a disturbance in amateur boxing circles over the claims of professionalism among the boxers who took part in the last national championship tournament The bill submitted to the board of directors of the Olympic Club which held the champion slips by those who managed the tournament, showed that the boxers expected to receive money The Olympic directors however did not sanction this and did not pay

There is a peculiar situation at present The Central Athletic Club has applied for a sanction to hold boxing contests on the Fourth of July but his not received it as the registration committee has not since held a meeting The police committee of the Board of Supervisors however has issued the permit If the Pacific Amateur Association declares all the men who took part in the national championship professionals it will stop the Central Club from holding its show as an amateur affair as practically all those who are to box are men who appeared in the national championships

It is possible that the Pacific Amateur Association will allow the Central Club to hold four round professional contests in which case the men out of the amateur ranks can box

BRAKE FAILED ON STEEP HILL

SAN FRANCISCO June 22—Thomas H B Varney the automobile enthusiast had an experience during the week that almost had a disastrous ending to himself and family that were returning from the Yosemite valley in their big Pope-Toledo machine and everything went smoothly until Priests hill was reached The brake had been acting badly but Mr Varney and his son Walter who was running the machine fixed it as they thought so as to make the descent perfectly safe

There is about a twenty per cent grade to Priests hill and when the big machine had traveled a few hundred feet the brake failed to hold and the machine commenced its mad flight On a winding road with a precipice of several hundred feet on one side the occupants of the runaway machine had about one chance in a thousand of escaping with their lives

Each second the speed of the machine increased and the young chauffeur had to call all his skill into play If he had lost his head a single instant the occupants of the machine would all have been killed to certain The Varneys undoubtedly owe their lives to the roughness of the road The axle was broken on the rough road and dragging along the ground it finally brought the machine to a standstill

J Charles Green who made the trip in his French machine went to Mr Varney's assistance While it was a most exciting ride and a novel experience it is perhaps one that would not end so fortunately again in many a day Aside from this incident the trip was successful and a thoroughly enjoyable one

Backache is almost immediately relieved by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters Try one and be free from pain Price 25 cents

GOLF TOURNEY STARTS ON FOURTH

SAN FRANCISCO June 22—Just previous to April 18th golf promised to be one of the most popular sports of the coming season The course of the San Francisco Golf and Country Club at Ingleside was in splendid shape and tournaments were scheduled for some time to come Mid week sweepstake tournaments were arranged for the month of April and medal play competitions for the first Saturday of each month Since April 18th play has been practically at a standstill on the local links The first tournament to be played since that time is scheduled for the Fourth of July

The tournament committee has arranged for a competition under handicap conditions over thirty-six holes at medal play This event will bring out all of the crack players, as it will be the first time they had an opportunity to meet in tournament play since the disaster Besides the trophy for the best net score, there will also be a prize for the best eighteen holes in the morning's play The eighteen holes in the afternoon will also be counted as the first competition for the monthly medal The winner of the eighteen hole round will be awarded the medal and at the end of the year the holders of the monthly medals will meet in the play-off for a special trophy

The annual tournament for the Crocker cup will start on the links of the Burlingame Country Club on July 2d This competition is open to women golfers the initial event being won last year by Mrs R Gilman Brown who has proved herself the foremost player on the coast The Crocker cup must be won three times before it becomes the personal property of any player The match play rounds will be contested on the 2d and 3d of July and the final match on the 4th of July There will also be a tournament for the men on the Fourth

DIDN'T KNOW WIFE IN DARK

Own Spouse in for Yellow Divorce.

June 23.—Mrs. Mary Ell... of 3552 Cates avenue, ... a pantry and took ... conversation between Katie Bryant ... 'yellow woman,' and Mrs ... husband, Judge Orvil Davis Jones a leading attorney of Edina, Mo who is prominent in state politics and was a candidate for governor on the populist ticket in 1896 She says she also heard two conversations between Judge Jones and the colored woman while concealed in the garret of their home

The conversation she overheard from the pantry is the only one that has been gone into in Mrs Jones's divorce suit against Judge Jones, which is on trial in Judge Ryan's court This related mainly to a kissing episode in the dark when, the wife asserts, Judge Jones kissed her on the supposition that he was kissing Katie.

Katie Bryant was housemaid at the Jones home in Edina In September last year she slept at the house for a time on a couch in the dining room Mrs Jones testified that, because of something that Katie told her, she exchanged rooms with Katie who is described in one of the depositions as a 'yellow woman" Relating what occurred Mrs Jones testified

'The room of Mr Jones adjoined the dining room The door was open About 11 o'clock he appeared at the door Kate may I come? he asked in a subdued tone to me I did not reply He came in It was a moonless night and the curtains were drawn and it was very dark He kissed me on the mouth"

That was Sunday night September 10 The pantry incident happened about three days later Jones was eating his supper The dining room table stood near the door leading into the kitchen Kate Bryant was standing at the kitchen window Mrs Jones was in the pantry between the kitchen and the dining room The conversation was about the Sunday night incident

CONDEMNED TO SLAVERY.

Two hundred years ago, when men and women were condemned to death for trivial offenses, it was the custom in Scotland to commute the death sentence into perpetual servitude to specified masters—in other words, the condemned person became a slave. It was further ordained that he should wear a metal collar round his neck, recording his sentence and punishment.

The Society of Scottish Antiquaries owns one of these collars, fished out of the Forth above Alloa. It is of brass, with this inscription: "Alexander Stewart, found guilty of death for theft at Perth, 5th December, 1701, and gifted by the Justiciars as a perpetual servant to Sir John Areskon of Alva."—Collectors' Magazine

BEGAN IN THE RIVER WILL END AT ALTAR

Will Marry Man Saved by Her Skill.

BERKELEY, June 22—Miss Genevieve Dowsett of Honolulu is to marry Prentiss Nathaniel Gray, one of the most prominent men graduated from the University of California Miss Dowsett, who is well known in San Francisco society and who is now residing with a married sister at Belvedere, is the daughter of a plantation owner of Hawaii. Gray is the son of George D Gray, the capitalist and ship owner.

The engagement has not been announced save to a few of the intimate friends and relatives of the couple.

The romance began in the Nile river country near Fort Bragg, where Miss Dowsett and Gray were guests at a house party last summer. The accidental overturning of a rowboat on the river one afternoon when Miss Dowsett and Gray were rowing nearly resulted in the death of the collegian, and it was only by the heroic efforts of his companion, who is a strong swimmer, that his life was saved Gray was rendered unconscious by striking his head on a sunken rock in the river. His companion managed to keep the head of the unconscious man above water for nearly half an hour, when help arrived

While in the university Gray was one of the most prominent figures of college life He was a member of the Phi Delta Gamma fraternity and popular on account of his record as a football star In his junior year he was manager of the "Blue and Gold" and also managed the "University Magazine" and the "Pelican." At the close of his junior year he was elected president of the Associated Students and in that capacity made a reputation for keen judgment and executive ability. He was also a prominent debater.

PRENTISS GRAY.

Miss Dowsett made her home with a married sister in San Francisco until driven to Belvedere by the disaster of April 18.

At present Gray is looking after his father's interests in San Diego. He went there immediately after his graduation from the university this spring, and will probably remain some time. The date of the wedding has not been announced.

PROTEST MADE AGAINST METHODS OF ASSESSOR

Berkeley Trustees Receive Letter in Which Taxpayer Complains of Wharff's Actions.

BERKELEY, June 22.—The first protest against the methods of Assessor F. L. Wharff in collecting the town taxes was made last night before the board of town trustees. The letter, which is self-explanatory, follows:

"We desire to enter a complaint against the action of the town assessor.

"We made out our tax papers exactly as we have done in former years, placing the ample valuation of $200 upon our household goods, itemizing the latter. We do not own the carpets nor some of the furniture. I then filed the paper at the assessor's office for my mother, as I have always done before, and no protest nor objection was made at the time.

"The notice that the taxes were payable—incidentally I will mention that this notice was addressed to William D Mott, supposedly my father, William W. Mott, though the papers have always been made out in Mrs. William L. Mott's name—placed the valuation of our belongings at $1500. I went at once to the assessor's office to have the supposed mistake corrected, and to pay the correct tax, and was informed that an arbitrary assessment had been made because Mrs. Mott had not filed the paper in person, and because some questions relating to loans, etc, had not been answered.

"When I asked why the greatly increased assessment had been made, instead of basing it upon a previous year's estimate, I was informed that no one had any right to find fault with a public officer for doing his duty—and that all we could do was to pay the taxes and then take the matter up before the board of equalization at their meeting in the fall.

"We have not the slightest objections to answering any and all questions contained in the tax papers. It was simply because they did not concern us in the least that we left those few unanswered.

"Trusting that you will be able to give the matter your attention at the meeting of the board of education, I am, respectfully yours,

"MISS MARY BOSTWICK MOTT."

NO CHANGE.

PREDICTIONS MADE OF BIG ORIENTAL TRADE

Department of Commerce and Agriculture Says by 1910 It Will Be $500,000,000 a Year.

BERKELEY June 22—The following is a communication received by the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce from the United States department of commerce and agriculture which is being sent to the chambers of commerce boards of trade commercial clubs and other commercial bodies of the United States and Canada The suggestions put forward on solicitation and introduction of goods, quotations and terms of sale in Asia are of special value to manufacturers exporters and merchants in the United States and Canada as they are offered as a result of many years experience of an authority fully conversant with the countries and matters of the peoples, their language and general business methods

Notwithstanding that much has been written and said on the subject of the rapid expansion of British and American commerce in Asia it is beyond the comprehension of most authorities in Europe and America

The importance of the development of the Asiatic trade is appreciated by all maritime and commercial countries and it is generally recognized that the integrity of national and other securities must be maintained by the rapid expansion of trade relations with Asia Hence the Asiatic trade is the commercial prize for which all nations have entered into contest

The United States enjoys advantages which give her preeminence in many respects over her competitors. Of the most important of these advantages may be mentioned the geographical and strategic position of the Pacific coast ports of San Francisco bay, Puget sound, and other fine harbors along the 12,425 miles of coast line. The advantage has been demonstrated in the rapid advance of the trade of the United States with Asia during the past decade as compared with that of other countries The fact is that the healthiest showing in the foreign trade of the United States is with Asia and Oceanica The future of this trade depends largely upon the methods employed in its development Under improved political conditions, the observance of ethical principles in business transactions, and, lastly, but not of least importance, progressive methods in the solicitation and introduction of goods, quotations and terms of sale, the trade of the United States with Asia should approximate $500 000,000 by the close of the fiscal year 1910"

DETAILS OF POLES PLOT

Witness Tells of Plans Made in Portland to Kill President.

PORTLAND, Or, June 22—During the trial of six Poles, charged with assault and battery in the municipal court yesterday, W Sealaszkiwicz testified that about a month ago a plot was laid in this city and an attempt made to raise funds to send a member of an anarchist organization to Washington to assassinate President Roosevelt.

Sealaszkiwicz stated that, however, the plan fell through It was out of these dissensions that grew the trouble which resulted in the Poles making an attack upon Sealaszkiwicz. He testified that there are two Polish organizations in the city, in one of which he holds membership The other society, which he asserted is anarchistic, is composed of members of the first society.

The documents and pamphlets which were seized by the federal authorities have been forwarded to Washington, the secret service agents refusing to make them public here. The defendants in the case today vehemently denied Sealaszkiwicz's accusation, and in turn declared that he was himself an anarchist

CONTRACTS FOR BIG BUILDINGS

$3,000,000 Worth of Reinforced Concrete Structures Provided for by San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22—With more than $3,000,000 worth of reinforced concrete buildings contracted for in San Francisco within the past three weeks there is no doubt but that this material will enter vastly into the rebuilding of the city.

Every day engineers who are experts in reinforced concrete construction are arriving in the city and before the summer is well advanced the best experts in concrete building in this country and Europe will be gathered here

It is a singular fact that among the engineers who are arriving in San Francisco now there are several native sons of the Golden West who have been connected with big building operations in the east They are returning to California to assist in renewing the glory of the city they left in their youth

R H Mathewson, a young Californian has made a reputation in the east as an expert in reinforced concrete construction. He arrived in San Francisco a few days ago with several of the staff of engineers who will do the concrete work for the Underwriters Engineering and Construction Company one of the companies in the building organization of Frank B Gilbreth of New York, Boston and San Francisco

S H Noyes, who assisted Professor Lewis J Johnson in designing the Harvard stadium, the great concrete grandstand that seats 40,000 people, is also a member of this staff of engineers recently to arrive in the city.

Another arrival is S A. Jubb, who assisted E P Goodrich in the mammoth engineering feat of building the Bush terminal plant in Brooklyn, which includes seventy-three of the finest and most complete warehouses in the world, and seven of the largest docks in the world, and where half of the prodigious volume of freight that comes to New York every year is handled.

Both Mr Goodrich and Mr Jubb are men connected with the engineering department of the Underwriters Engineering and Construction Company and they will have charge of the extensive building operations in reinforced concrete in this city Mr. Goodrich has gone abroad for a few months to study the latest advances in reinforced concrete work in Europe, so that upon his return he can give San Francisco the benefit of his observations.

Only the fact that there is no doubt in the minds of big American contractors but that there will be immense building operations in this city has brought about the assembling of so many distinguished engineers in the city Professor Johnson of Harvard, who is also connected with this staff of engineers, will come to San Francisco to supervise much of the concrete building operations

WAITRESSES BALK AT SWEARING

CHICAGO, June 22—The Waitresses' union at a meeting yesterday expressed its sentiments unanimously in the following maxims

"Employers shall not use profane language to waitresses.

"Waitresses shall not be reprimanded in the presence of guests."

These two dicta, typewritten, were laid on the manager's desk in every downtown restaurant where girls are employed, with a note to the effect that unless employers follow these rules they may be confronted with strikes.
